CARGO KEEPS VICTIM AFLOAT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—(United Press.)—Tugs sent to the scene of the collision between the Honolulu liner Wilhelmina and the freighter Sierra are reported to have placed lines aboard the waterlogged hulk of the Sierra and are to tow her into port here immediately.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—(By International News Service.)—The Matson liner Wilhelmina and the steam schooner Sierra, crashed seven miles west of San Francisco lightship early today in a dense fog.

The Wilhelmina sustained but slight damage, although she took considerable water. The Sierra, laden with lumber, was badly damaged and in danger of sinking, though her cargo aided in keeping her afloat.

The Wilhelmina stood by the smaller vessel until tugs reached the scene. The Wilhelmina was inbound from Honolulu, but had only a light passenger list this trip—about a score.

The Sierra, outbound for San Pedro, was reported to have a crew of thirty.

The Sierra is reported to have cut across the bow of the Wilhelmina without sounding her siren. Prompt action on the part of the Wilhelmina, in reversing her engines probably prevented a more serious crash.

Following the arrival of the tugs at the scene the Wilhelmina steamed to the bay entering at 11:00 o'clock. She proceeded at once to her berth at the Matson docks.

ABOARD CUTTER SHAWNEE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—After the Matson liner Wilhelmina had left the scene of her collision early today with the freighter Sierra, the coast guard cutter Shawnee, three private tugs and the army tug Slocum stood by the badly damaged lumber vessel. At 10:40 the Shawnee reported by radio that she had taken on board sixteen of the Sierra's crew and that others were still aboard the Sierra. The message said there were no casualties and that the freighter had been taken in tow by a tug, with the Shawnee standing by. The Wilhelmina, though damaged and taking on water, remained by the side of the Sierra for several hours, proceeding to port only after the lifting of the fog and the arrival of the rescue tugs.

INJURED IN COLLISION

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—(By United Press.)—Lives of passengers and the crews of the Matson Navigation Company's liner Wilhelmina and the E. K. Wood Lumber company's freighter Sierra were put in jeopardy at 4 a. m. today when the two ships collided at sea seven miles off the Golden Gate at the entrance of San Francisco harbor.

Reports by radio to the Radio Corporation of America shortly before 9 a. m. described the Sierra as being in a bad way, listing at 45 degrees, waterlogged and helpless.

The Wilhelmina, first reported leaking badly, later was found to be taking only a comparatively small amount of water and stood by for several hours while the passengers lined the rails watching the spectacle of a sea disaster.

The crew of the Sierra was forced to take to the small boats at dawn when their ship became so listed and waterlogged as to make it impossible for them to remain longer aboard her.

Radio calls for help sent five Red Stack tugs from San Francisco to the scene. Three were chartered to tow the Sierra into port and two were sent out to give any assistance which might be needed by the Wilhelmina.

FIRST WORD OF COLLISION RECEIVED ABOUT 4 A. M.

First word of the collision was received by the Radio Corporation of America at approximately 4 a. m., when the Wilhelmina reported by radio and asked aid.

By 5 a. m. the radio brought word that the Sierra was in a serious condition and her crew was leaving the ship.

During the morning radiograms gave additional details of the disaster.

The Sierra was proceeding southward along the coast, when she was crossing her path, incoming from the Hawaiian Islands. The Sierra struck the Wilhelmina and the engines were set full speed astern. The Sierra apparently did not see the Wilhelmina.

Savannah Gives a Joyous Welcome When Transport Arrives With American Doughboys From Germany

Bells, Cannon and Sirens Join in Mighty Clamor As the St. Mihel Brings U. S. Forces From Rhineland

LEADS WIRE TO TRIBUNE
SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 7.—The transport St. Mihel with the American troops from Germany arrived at Tybee bar at 12 o'clock. Conveyed by the cutter Yamacraw and tug McCauley she proceeded to quarantine.

At 12:45 o'clock the transport again was under way, having been cleared by quarantine officers. While at quarantine the congressional party aboard the cutter Yamacraw and newspapermen on the tug McCauley boarded the ship. They were vociferously greeted by the doughboys.

The crash of the guns was the signal for the ringing of "Big Duke," a huge firebell in the center of the city. Immediately almost every bell, whistle and siren in the city added its blasts to the welcome for the troops. The melody of sounds continued five minutes as the transport, her hull lined with cheering doughboys and their German war brides, passed up the river to her dock.

Arrival of the transport at the city limits was announced by the booming of two brass cannon. The cannon captured from the British at Yorktown, Va., and presented to George Washington were fired by a special crew of members of the Chatham Artillery, who served in that unit in the Civil and Spanish-American wars. A salvo from a battery of French 75s followed.

For many of the soldiers aboard the transport who formed the American army of occupation on the German Rhine it was the first sight of the United States for more than five years. While Whistles and sirens sent up a shrill welcome and thousands at the docks cheered, the veterans crowding the rail of the transport, answered yell after yell.

The soldiers danced frantically about the deck of the ship and threw hats into the air.

Here Are Radio Calls That Told Of Ships' Crash

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—The collision between the Matson Navigation Company's liner Wilhelmina and the lumber ship Sierra, off the Golden Gate early today, was described in a series of wireless messages received at the Federal Telegraph Company's beach station, the first of which was picked up at 4:30 a. m.

The Sierra, shortly after the crash, began sending S. O. S. calls.

The Wilhelmina replied: "I am leaking also, but will stand by."

At 4:57 the Sierra spoke: "Listening forty-five degrees and sinking fast."

The Wilhelmina then asked whether the Sierra could make it to the San Francisco lightship, about seven miles from the scene of the crash.

The freighter replied that she could not proceed, because her engine room was flooded.

At 5:15 she added: "Heeling fast."

Ismet Pasha and the principal members of the Turkish conference delegation left Lausanne for Ankara at 7 o'clock this morning to consult with the government. A secretary remained behind. Several journalists accompanied the party.

Ismet Pasha issued the following statement:

"We came to Lausanne November 13 to make peace with the world. We made maximum sacrifices during the entire conference, and the world's public opinion will recognize this. Recently we made our propositions in response to allied proposals, and we have not received any reply in writing."

"I observe that all the other delegates have departed for their capitals. I have received no communication that the conference has been ruptured; on the contrary, the secretary-general says it has only been suspended. Therefore I do not deem that the conference has been broken down."

"I like the other delegates and after the other delegates, I will leave this morning to consult with my government at Ankara."

In reply to a question, Ismet Pasha told the Associated Press correspondent that he was ready to return to Lausanne, or go elsewhere, perhaps in three weeks, if the allies wanted to resume the negotiations.

To avoid crossing Greek territory, especially the Karagatch railroad station, which was in dispute at the conference, Ismet is proceeding by way of Budapest and Constantinople, then by steamer to Constantinople.

WAR RUMBLING HEARD IN EAST

LAUSANNE, Feb. 7.—(United Press.)—Both the Turks and Russians left Lausanne today and rumblings of impending war in the Near East followed on their heels.

Ismet Pasha, recalcitrant to the last, departed for Ankara with a majority of the Ottoman delegation at 6:40 a. m., leaving a few secretaries "in case the allies change their minds."

Feeling here is that the peace parley is definitely at an end.

The Russians, still protesting that the allies must meet their terms regarding the straits being closed to warships, left at 6 o'clock.

LAUSANNE, Feb. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—All mediation has definitely failed. Turkey will not sign the allied treaty at the present time, even with the latest concessions proposed.

Five Cases Are Demonstrated by Dr. Emile Coue

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—(By Associated Press.)—Dr. Emile Coue planned his final lectures here today before starting back for France from New York Saturday. At his first lectures yesterday the Frenchman demonstrated several cases. In each he disclaimed that he had anything to do with effecting a cure, but said that whatever benefits there were came from the patients themselves. These cases were:

F. G. Gardner, Chicago, left arm crippled. Gardner was able to raise his arm to his ear after Coue told him to believe he could do it.

Otto Kropf, Milwaukee, crippled by rheumatism. He walked without aid of cane after being apparently unable to step without assistance.

Maurice Magnus, paralytic. He dropped his canes and shuffled across the platform unaided when Coue told him to believe he could.

Carab Goldenberg, paralytic. She also gave a demonstration of walking unaided when told to.

Mrs. Peter Hilland, joints stiffened with rheumatism. She used the joints when Coue asked her to believe she had the power.

Truckee River Road Will Be Surveyed

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—A decision to survey the Truckee river highway route between Truckee and Verdi, Nev., as a possible unit of the Victory transcontinental highway, has been reached by the state highway commission. It was announced today by Harvey M. Toy, chairman of the commission. The Truckee river route is also being considered, Toy said, but the commission is proceeding under the belief that the Truckee route may prove the more feasible.

A controversy between proponents of the two routes has been waged for more than two years. According to Toy, approximately 175 organizations favor the Truckee route.

NAKI AND ROING PART TO LESSEN AUTO DEATH ROLL

Despite Pamphlets Sent Out, California Leads Union in Accident List.

The work during the past year by the East Bay Safety Council, and plans for the ensuing year, were discussed at length yesterday at a luncheon meeting of the executive committee of the council at the Hotel Oakland.

E. B. Thornton, of the Key Route company, who is secretary of the council, said that 50,000 copies of a Safety First pamphlet, prepared by Coroner Grant Miller, had been distributed and that the Key Route had co-operated in the distribution of 60,000 news bulletins, asking the public to aid in the campaign for the reduction of accidents. Yet, the speaker said, accidents are still increasing, and greater activity with more extensive co-operation, are needed.

Thornton said that California leads the Union with the highest death rate by accident in the public streets. The California rate is 27 per 100,000 population, while that of New York, which comes second, is 15. Of the cities, Los Angeles is given as the worst offender. Of sixty-eight cities included in a statistical report of the Department of Commerce, Oakland is twenty-first on the list, Thornton said, its death rate due to accidents being 15.5 per 100,000 population.

The speaker pointed to the enormous number of fatalities due to careless auto driving and said that the production of automobiles has been doubled since 1916. The meeting was presided over by Coroner Grant Miller, among those present being:

George H. Harris, Joseph R. Knowland, H. C. Capwell, Commissioner Frank Colburn, James T. Drew, Chief of Police of Oakland; August Vollmer, Berkeley Chief of Police; Sheriff William A. Wamuth of Alameda; Robert W. Martin of the California Automobile Trade Association; L. M. Cromwell of the Moore Shipbuilding Company; District Attorney Ezra Decoto; Fred M. Hunter, Superintendent of Schools; and Abe P. Leach, chairman of the executive committee of the Boy Scouts.

the mere money involved, Harding said, continuing:

"It is a recommitment of the English-speaking world to the validity of contract; it is in effect a pledge against war and war expenditures, and a rigid adherence to that production and retrenchment which enhances stability precisely as it discharges obligations."

"The call of the world is for integrity of agreement, the sanctity of covenants, the validity to contract. Here is the first clearing of war-clouded skies in a debt-burdened world, the sincere commitment of one great nation to validating its financial pledges and discharge its obligations in the highest sense of financial honor."

No hard bargain was driven with the British government, said Harding, and none was intended.

CALAMITY MIGHT FOLLOW DISAGREEMENT.

In stressing the desirability of prompt ratification, the President reminded his hearers that untold calamity might have followed, and might still follow the failure of this agreement—the first that the United States has concluded with its score of debtors.

"The failure of the British undertaking would have spread political and economic discouragement throughout the world," he declared, "and general repudiation would likely have followed in its wake."

"But here is kept faith," the President continued, earnestly, "willingly kept, let it be recorded, and a covenant of peace no more effective than it would be in joint British and American opposition to war were expressly agreed upon."

"It is a covenant of peace and recuperation, of respect and co-operation. It is a new element of financial and economic stabilization, when the world is sadly needing a reminder of the ways of peace."

Surely, the President said, if the British government could sanction the agreement, say in two short sessions of its cabinet, then the American Congress could not be less prompt in approving it.

Owing to the suddenness of the President's decision, to make his address in person, there were many vacant seats in the galleries when he began his address at 1:05 p. m. The President finished speaking at 1:30 p. m.

President Harding's Message Urges Prompt Debt Settlement

issued therefore similar to those of the original issue.

"Any payment of interest or of principal may be made in any United States government bonds issued since April 6, 1917, such bonds to be taken at par and accrued interest."

"The extension of payment both of the principal and interest over a long period will make for stability in exchange and promotion of commerce between the two countries. The payment of principal has been established on a basis of positive installments of increasing volume, firmly establishing the principle of repayment of the entire capital sum. The payment of interest has been established at the high rate of interest naturally maintained during the war and reconstruction, and that such an attempt would defeat our efforts at settlement. Beyond this the commission has felt that the present difficulties of unemployment and high taxation in the United Kingdom will encourage economic recuperation not only in the countries immediately concerned, but throughout the world."

"This settlement between the British government and the United States has the utmost significance. It is a business settlement fully preserving the integrity of the obligations, and it represents the first great step in the readjustment of the inter-governmental obligations growing out of the war."

"Respectfully submitted,

A. W. MELLON, Chairman.

CHARLES D. HUGHES.

HERBERT HOOVER.

REED SMOOT.

THEODORE E. BURTON."

"FAIR AND JUST TO BOTH GOVERNMENTS."

In its comments upon the arrangements negotiated, the commission itself has said essentially everything necessary to commend the agreement to your sanction. Note that the commission urges that the settlement is on a basis which is "fair and just to both governments, and will make a most important settlement to stability." More important still is the closing observation that it is a business settlement "fully deserving the integrity of the obligation and it represents the first great step in the readjustment of the inter-governmental obligations growing out of the war." In these observations I must heartily approve. The call of the world today is for integrity of agreements, the sanctity of covenants, the validity of contracts.

"The first clearing of the war-clouded skies in a debt-burdened world, and the sincere commitment of one great nation to validate its financial pledges and discharge its obligations in the highest sense of financial honor."

"There is no purpose to report that your commission has driven a hard bargain with Great Britain or to do a less seemly thing in approximating a fare generosity in settlement. Amid widespread clamor for cancellation of world war debts, as a fancied but fallacious contribution toward peace—a clamor not limited to the lands of debtor nations, but insistent among many of our own people—the British commission came to make acknowledgment of the debt to put fresh stamp of approval upon its validity and agree upon terms for its repayment."

BRITAIN SOUGHT TERMS IN WHICH TO PAY.

It was manifest from the beginning that Great Britain could not undertake any program of payment which would conform to the limitations of time and interest rates which the commission had been authorized to grant. But here was a great nation acknowledging its obligations and seeking terms in which it might repay. So your commission proceeded to negotiate in a business way for a fair and just settlement. Such a settlement had to take into consideration the approximately normal interest rates payable, as the commission suggests, "by strong governments over a long term of years" with a temporary interest rate and suitable options adjusted to the tremendous problems of readjustment and recuperation. Your commission went so far as it believed the American sense of fair play would justify. Even then the British debt commission did not feel justified by its instructions to accept the proposal. Only after submission to the British cabinet was the proposal of your commission accepted, and I bring to you, with the earnest recommendation that it be given so far as legislation will permit, a cordial and prompt approval.

APPROVAL HAS BEEN VIRTUALLY UNANIMOUS.

A transaction of such vital importance naturally has attracted widespread attention and much of commendation. It is a very gratifying thing to note the press and public have uttered substantially unanimous approval. It means vastly more than the mere funding and the ultimate discharge of the largest international loan ever contracted. It is a recommitment of the English speaking world to the validity of contract, adherence to that production and retrenchment which enhances stability precisely as it discharges obligations.

It can not be unreasonably to say it, and it is too important to be omitted, the failure of the British undertaking would have spread political discouragement throughout the world and general repudiation would have likely followed in its wake. But here is kept faith—willingly kept let it be recorded—and a covenant of peace no less effective than it would be in joint British and American opposition to war were expressly agreed upon. It is a covenant of peace and recuperation, of respect and co-operation. It is a new element of financial and economic stabilization, when the world is sadly needing a reminder of the ways of peace. It is an example of encouragement and inspiration, when the world is staggering in discouragement and bowed with the sorrows of wars that were and fears of wars which humanity is praying be avoided.

HOPES CONGRESS WILL BE GLAD TO APPROVE.

Ordinarily I should be reluctant to add this question to a congressional program which is already crowded, in view of the short period remaining of your session. But it is of such outstanding importance to us and to the world that I should be remiss if I did not invite your sanction even amid crowded calendars and pending problems of great import.

And I hope you will be glad to approve. If the debtors nation could decide to assume the great obligation in two cabinet sessions, in the face of enormous financial and economic difficulties, I hope the deciding authority of the debtor nation will be ready to approve in a spirit appropriate to the great transaction and with a promptness which will convey befitting appreciation.

I am not unmindful of the disposition to pledge the application of anticipated payments in giving sanction to the settlement. It is not necessary to remind the congress that the use of monies secured in the repayment of war loans has been pledged by the very grant of authority to make the loans. The repeal of that commitment is always within the authority of the congress if such a repeal is deemed wise, but it will best comport with the importance of such an international transaction to give a frank, exclusive and direct decision, uninfluenced by any disposition of the monies which the funding program ultimately will bring to the federal treasury.

Nor am I unmindful of the importance of pending legislation with which any prolonged consideration of the debt settlement might come in conflict.

MERCHANT MARINE PLEA IS RENEWED.

Knowing there is abundant time for ample debate I would be recreant to my belief in the urgency of a decision on the merchant marine bill if I did not renew the request that it be brought to a final disposition. I venture the allusion because it has been threatened that the merchant marine act shall not be allowed to come to a vote. Today you have a debt settlement which is to bring the treasury something more than a hundred million dollars a year, and we rightly appraise it a notable accomplishment. On the other hand the executive branch of the government is charged with the operation of government-owned shipping, which is losing the federal treasury $50,000,000 a year. It is as important to avoid losses as it is to secure funds on debts or from taxation sources.

I have detailed the discouraging situation with our shipping to congress, and have suggested what is believed to be a remedy, not only to put an end to the losses, but to uphold an American merchant marine to meet our cherished aspirations and further our commerce abroad. In inviting your support I frankly urged that if congress would not approve, that it should submit some alternative remedy. I am unwilling, the public is unwilling, to continue these appalling losses to the public treasury when we know we are operating with no prospect of relief or of ultimate achievement.

DECLARATIONS SITUATION DEMANDS FRANKNESS.

Congress owes to itself, to the executive branch of the government and to the American public some decisive action. Mere avoidance by prolonged debate is a mark of impotence on a vitally important public question. I plead for a decision. If there is a favorable majority, the bill should be enacted. If a majority is opposed, defeat will be decisive. Then, if congress fails in providing the requested alternative measure, the executive branch of the government may proceed as best it can to end the losses in liquidation and humiliation.

I speak frankly, because the situation demands frankness. I am trying to emphasize a responsibility which can not be met by one branch of the government alone. There is call for congressional expression, not mere avoidance. I am not seeking now to influence the senate's decision, but I am appealing for some decision.

There is time, abundant time, for decisive action on both these tremendously important questions. I have brought up the shipping bill because I can foresee the possible conflict for right of way, but it ought and can be avoided. There is time for essential debate of both, and each carries its own chapter in great achievement, both will mark a signal triumph. Both are inseparably related to our good fortune at home and our high place in the world.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. — (By Associated Press.) — Today the conclusion of the Conference of the American Republics, which opened in Washington last night, was marked by the signing of a number of agreements. The first of these was a pact of amity, which was signed by all the nations present. The pact provides for the signing of similar pacts between all the nations of the Americas, and for the building of no more warships.

Author of Cabaret System Passes Away in East

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Known in all parts of the world as the father of the modern cabaret and the founder of "Freiberg's," still one of the most famous spots in Chicago's night life, Fritz died yesterday with an old violin he loved clasped in his arms. The strains of a popular dance were heard tonight at the hall he founded, but "Old Fritz" had been forgotten by present-day amusement seekers.

The hall he opened on Twenty-second street became world famous as the center of a former white light district and a rendezvous for actors, visiting notables during the world's fair days and men about town. In his own orchestra, Freiberg played a violin he had brought from Germany and the place soon became famous for the quality of its music and then for its food. Later he introduced an innovation that attracted wide attention, vaudeville acts interspersed between dances. He was 83 years old and was known as one of the richest musicians in Chicago.

UNION TO APPEAL STRIKE DECISION

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—Eight Santa Fe strikers of Needles, Cal., who recently were convicted in the Federal District Court here of conspiracy to obstruct interstate commerce during the shipmen's strike last August, and who were fined $1250 each, will file an appeal in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals this week, according to Hugh L. Dickson, one of their attorneys.

The surety bonds which must be filed in connection with the appeal will be furnished by the American Federation of Labor and the Big Four brotherhoods. The unions plan to fight the decision on the ground that the men committed no overt acts, but were convicted simply for leaving their posts and, by so doing, interrupting the transportation of mail and causing the marooning of passenger trains in the desert.

In this, it is claimed, they violated no law, and the point which the unions seek to determine is the extent to which the government will go in prosecuting men for quitting their work on a railroad engaged in interstate commerce.

Washington State Budget Is Approved

The bill provides for the submission of their problems to a commission of inquiry with a view of facilitating settlement of the dispute. The reports of commissions of inquiry are not given the force of judicial decisions or arbitral awards.

BISHOP URGES LABORS AMONG UNCHURCHED

Parsons Delivers His Annual Address at Episcopalian Convention.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—Stressing the need of work among the unchurched people, Bishop Coadjutor Edward Lambe Parsons delivered the annual address at yesterday afternoon's session of the seventy-third convention of the Episcopal Church of California. Bishop Parsons urged the more than 600 delegates who were in attendance to realize that among the people at their own doors who were not now in the church lay the first work of every churchman. Social service of the church was pointed out by Bishop Parsons to be one of its most important functions.

"I think of the relation of the great unchurched throng, to God I sometimes wonder: Have the churches of Christ forgotten how to make a Christian out of a pagan?" declared Bishop Parsons during his address.

MESSAGE FROM BISHOP A message from Bishop William F. Nichols, head of the diocese, who is at present in Florida, stressed the importance of work among the young people and urged the delegates at the convention to do their utmost in performing the work and fulfilling the aspirations and objects of the church.

At a business meeting held yesterday Rev. Harvey L. Hanson was re-elected secretary of the diocese, and Rev. F. M. Church was elected first assistant secretary.

While the convention was in session the House of Churchwomen met in Grace Cathedral, where an address was delivered by Mrs. H. M. Sherman, president.

MRS. STILLMAN TO BE MILLINER BY WHOLESALE

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Mrs. Anne U. Stillman is going into the wholesale millinery business in this city, her secretary revealed after Justice Morschauer in White Plains denied application for extra alimony from her divorced husband, James A. Stillman. Asked why Mrs. Stillman had selected that particular field of business endeavor, the secretary said: "It is because Mrs. Stillman, who is a very well-dressed woman, is interested in all kinds of clothing, perhaps."

The average size of the farms in the United States in 1920 was 143 acres.

'CHIEF' HERE FOR SCOUTS' PAGEANT

Chief Blackhawk, adorned with paint, feathers and full Indian regalia, arrived in Oakland yesterday to get ready for the Boy Scout Indian pageant to be given in the Auditorium arena March 2 and 3. Under the paint and feathers the Indian warrior proved to be Ralph Hubbard, son of the late Elbert Hubbard, specialist in all things Indian, who will have charge of the big show. Tomorrow night, at the Technical high school, he will take part in the celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of Scouting in America. He will be introduced by Scout Executive Homer J. Bomies, who is cooperating with him in staging the big pageant. Hubbard, as Chief Blackhawk, takes the leading role and is supported by Boy Scouts, all in Indian costume. The floor of the Auditorium arena will be transformed into a vast Indian camp and the spectators will witness the show from the balcony.

CROWLEY GETS FREIGHTER. The Crowley Company was the successful bidder for the repair work on the freighter, Eastern Gale. The Oakland concern was low with a bid of $1995. The Eastern Gale after completion of the overhauling will be placed in the Pacific Coast-South American trade for the General Steamship Corporation.

Prof. Barnard, Noted Astronomer, Dies in East

WILLIAMS BAY, Wis., Feb. 7.—Prof. Edward E. Barnard, a noted astronomer, died today after a six weeks' illness. He was born in Nashville, Tenn., sixty-five years ago.

After studying in Vanderbilt University, he went to the Lick Observatory at Mount Hamilton, Calif., where he discovered the Fifth Satellite of Jupiter. In 1895 he was called by the University of Chicago to the post of astronomer at Yerkes Observatory.

Prof. Barnard has contributed to astronomical publications and during his illness nearly completed a great Atlas of the Milky Way, upon which he had been engaged for nearly twenty years. He has received many honors, including the Gold Medal of the Royal Astronomical Society and the award of the French Academy of Sciences.

Engineer Resigns As Dist. Road Supervisor

STOCKTON, Feb. 7.—County Engineer Frank B. Quill has notified the board of supervisors that he has relinquished all supervision over the dirt roads and bridges thereof of the county. The action is taken, he declared, owing to increased work in his department and the uncertainty, whether, under the new law, he would be entitled to assistants. He will continue to supervise all improved highways. The dirt road will go back to the old overseer system of maintenance.

VANDERLIP SEES NO PEACE HOPE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—Frank A. Vanderlip, New York financier, addressing the members of the city club, declared "We went to war to end war, and procured a peace which ended peace."

"The world war," he continued, "ended in a peace which destroyed the capacity of Europeans to live together peaceably and civilization is the art of living peaceably together. We can have a great measure of prosperity here at home without reference to Europe and their difficulties. Call it taking in your own washing if you will, but we can go forward as a self-contained nation by our own moral weight."

"Fairness and good will are the only things which will cure Europe. We are entitled to a better lead than we are getting from our administration. We are facing a crisis today quite as serious as the one we faced six years ago. We were discussing then whether we should go into the war, and now we are on the threshold of going into peace."

"If our administration would give us a lead, we could be as deciding a factor in peace as we were in war."

HOTEL CHIEF IS OAKLAND VISITOR

En route to Havana, Cuba, and to the various hotels controlled by his corporation on the Atlantic seaboard, Charles H. Baad, general manager of the new Hotel Biltmore in Los Angeles, passed through Oakland yesterday, and spent a few hours visiting old friends. Baad was formerly assistant manager of the St. Francis in San Francisco, and subsequently manager of the Alexandria in Los Angeles. The new Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles, of which he takes over the management for the McC. Bowman Corporation, the leading hotel system in the world, is nearing completion, and will be the largest and most luxurious hotel in the West. It is being built on Pershing Square.

Baad also is well known in Masonic and Shriner circles in the bay region. He commenced his career as a hotel man under James A. Woods, former San Francisco police commissioner and manager of the St. Francis, when Woods managed one of the large hotels of New Orleans.

Beard Breaks Up Home of Musician

Carlos de Mandil, erstwhile principal violinist at the T. & D. theater here and possessor of a handsome black beard, is wifeless.

Mrs. de Mandil, professionally known as Yvonne Rodriguez, is a Spanish dancer now with "The Last Waltz" company and she has obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce from the orchestra leader.

"It is all because of that black beard," Mrs. de Mandil told Judge Joseph Sabath in Chicago. "The ladies loved it and before long my Carlos was so busy he could not find time to work."

"Time was when he was eager to take his place at the head of his orchestra, but this expressed admiration took his mind off his work. For five years it has cost me $8000 a year to keep him in proper style."

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Attending years is not a distressing thing among those women who came to live hereabouts when neighbors were widely scattered and great oaks spread shade over the business streets. The anniversary of a birthday is made the occasion of rejoicing among the pioneer women of Oakland who do not find confusion in admitting the full sum of their age. When Friday comes it will witness a goodly company of friends of the older days, bound together with memories and by affiliations in the pioneer society at the residence of Mrs. C. M. Benner on Kempton street. Mrs. Benner, an honorary member of the Pioneer Women of Oakland, will this week observe her 80th birthday. To mark the day her fellows, led by Mrs. Sarah Farwell, president, have planned to call upon her, making the afternoon into something of an informal reception. Those of the number who are unable to lend their presence to the company have been requested to send a note of felicitation to her who is named among Oakland's earliest settlers. Reminiscences of the pioneer days and renewal of old friendships promise an interesting occasion.

A name club is being fashioned by the girls who are affiliated in the Junior Club auxiliary to the Rockridge Women's Club, the 10 cents a square pledging some $30 to the treasury, to be divided equally between the general activities and the philanthropic program. When the coverlet is completed it will probably serve an additional purpose in some hospital of the city.

A costume party is being planned by the members in celebration of the anniversary of the birthday of George Washington for the afternoon of Saturday, February 24. Mrs. A. A. Black will open her home for the attractive affair.

Beans, rolls, cake and coffee is the 25-cent luncheon menu which will be offered tomorrow by Claremont Parent-Teacher Association to any woman of the neighborhood who may be interested in joining the members in a 1 p. m. celebration of Founder's day. The menu, omitting the coffee, will be served cafeteria style to the students, beginning at high noon, at bargain rates of 15 cents.

Mrs. J. E. Squire, vice-president of Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs, will be the Founder's day speaker. Mrs. A. H. Cheney, president, will preside as chairman.

Headquarters which the Disabled Veterans have recently leased at 312 Broadway will be the more attractive because of the interest which Oakland War Mothers are taking in their comfort. The women have undertaken to add furnishings to the rooms, which will serve for a downtown meeting center.

The regular meeting of Oakland War Mothers will be held tomorrow in Pythian Castle, Twelfth and Alice streets. Mrs. C. M. Tuesday, February 13, at the home of Mrs. Alexander Allen, Jr.

A tea was given this afternoon by Mrs. Wilson Jones of Park boulevard, Piedmont, in honor of Mrs. Laura Jones Rawlinson of New County, who is the guest of Mrs. George Rooker Webb of Claremont.

Sunday afternoon Mrs. Walter C. Clark will be hostess in honor of Mrs. Rawlinson, who has come west in the interests of Music for Children, of which she has made a special study.

YOUNGER SET TO BE GUESTS.

Miss Dorothy Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dunn of Central avenue, Alameda, will be hostess Saturday afternoon at a bridge party for thirty of a friends and classmates at Miss Head's school, tea to follow the game.

Mrs. Martin L. Woolley of Claremont has sent out cards for a luncheon the afternoon of February 18 at her home in Bushnell Place, one of a series of affairs she has planned for the spring.

Antilever Shoe

The Attractive Woman is free from foot worry

She trips down the street with freedom in every step. She knows that her feet are an important part of her body, that to be at her best physically, mentally—she must be unconscious of them.

The Antilever Shoe is made with a flexible arch which fits the arch of the foot, giving helpful support without hampering the play of muscles. It gives freedom to the toes and to the whole foot structure. It permits better circulation. Antilever Shoes induce correct poise—so necessary to the proper functioning of every organ of the body, which, physicians say, means greater endurance, better health, growing color, increased physical charm.

Be fitted to a pair tomorrow and see if you cannot end your particular foot worries.

Alameda to Raise Webster Street Grade

ALAMEDA, Feb. 7.—A resolution of intention was adopted last night by the Alameda city council establishing the grade elevations along the marshland strip in Webster street, near the south approach of the bridge at from four to four and one-half feet above present grade.

As outlined by Burnett Hamilton, city engineer, the new grade elevation will begin at Atlantic avenue and extend in a gradual ascent to the highest elevation of the present road at the bridge entrance.

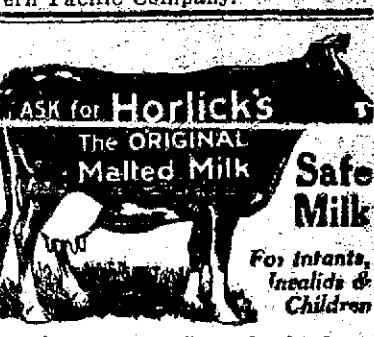

This section of roadway during the rainy weather is covered by back bay water several inches deep. It is a source of annoyance to motorists and hindrance to traffic.

Old Dutch keeps kitchens tidy

Old Dutch is a tidy housekeeper. Indeed this thrifty modern helper ranks high among the labor savers that help good housekeepers get their work done quickly, easily, thoroughly and at less cost.

The secret of this lies in its character. It is a natural cleanser, mined from the earth. Its very fine particles, due to their flat shape, make complete contact with the surface. They therefore cover more of it and do more cleaning, with less material.

It contains no hard, jagged grit which touches the surface only on its sharp corners and scratches and grinds in the dirt, making cleaning difficult and requiring more frequent cleaning. Old Dutch removes the dirt—not the surface.

Let Old Dutch have the run of the house.

Wart Hog's Fight To Be Seen on Screen

That the African war hog has more courage than his funny face would indicate is shown in "Hunting Big Game in Africa With Gun and Camera," the 10,000 foot film of the exploits of H. A. Snow in the jungles of that continent, which comes to the Oakland Auditorium theater Saturday, February 17, for an engagement of nine days, with presentations twice daily, 2:30 and 8:30 p. m. A full score by special orchestra accompanies the screening.

The war hog, whose lame fairy well describes his appearance, fought Snow's machine to a standstill. Snow encountered the war hog one day in driving a path across a trackless waste. For amusement the explorer chased the hog for quite a distance, when with suddenness and ferocity, the beast turned to attack.

The war hog hurled itself

Clubwomen of S. F. Outline New Plans

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—Mrs. D. E. F. Easton, Miss Marion Leale and Miss Margaret Mary Morgan were speakers today before the regular luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce Forum in the French room at the Palace. The projects of the Women's Building association and the National League for Women's Service for erecting clubhouses in the downtown district were presented by Mrs. Easton and Miss Leale. Superintendent Morgan outlined the proposed campaign for cleaning up the city.

against the auto. Its tusks ripped the tires; its hard head battered the radiator. Finally the war hog gave up the struggle, and sat afar off watching the new enemy it could not conquer. Even the beast's attitude of dejection is sufficient to cause laughter.

SEARCH, SEIZURE, CONFISCATION TO CHECK DOPE EVIL

This World-Wide Agreement to Be Proposed by U. S. Government.

By W. H. ATKINS, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The government's next step to combat the narcotic menace in the United States will be an effort to bring all nations into national agreement to allow search, seizure and confiscation of all drugs found illegitimately on ships used as carriers by dope smugglers, it was learned today.

The government narcotics board, comprising Secretaries Hughes, Hoover and Mellon, recognizes this as the only alternative which this government can now adopt to check the drug menace, which is claiming a greater number of victims in the United States than any other country on the globe.

The board's conclusion follows a world survey of the drug evil, and a study of possible methods to cope with it at its source. An expert survey of the problem, in all its angles, has just been completed for the government by the Far Eastern division of the commerce department.

Recommendations prepared by F. R. Eldridge, Far Eastern expert, were made public today.

The government, it was declared, faces these problems in war of drug traffic both within and outside the borders of the United States:

1. World-wide control of production of opium and coca leaves.

2. World-wide enforcement of strict supervision over manufacture and distribution of drugs.

3. International convention or agreement regarding seizure and confiscation of drugs found illegitimately on shipboard.

Control of production of drugs is found to be impracticable because of the remote possibility, at present, of getting chief producers of opium or coca leaves for world consumption to agree to world restrictions.

Among the members of Oakland Post, American Legion, several are now scoutmasters, it was announced at the meeting.

OAKLANDER DIES IN L. A. — Vincent Dapp, former Oakland resident, died here recently. He was born in Pasadena. He is survived by a brother, Matthew Dapp, of San Francisco. Dapp was born in Austria. He was formerly a student in Hopkins art institute and the Van Slean's Institute of Art.

THIRTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

Nance O'Neill has signed a contract to give four performances at the Casino Macdonough theater late this month.

"Ermine laid her powder puff in one corner. Ceres dropped in her slippers. Javotte put in one of her slippers. Ravens carefully rolled up the red handkerchief used by him in the first act and placed it beside the cavalier's snuffbox. The Princess put in the far that had hidden the bushes around by Cadmus's soft nothings, and that irrepressible individual tied a string on his umbrella, and laid it gently and tenderly among the other trinkets; Jesse Williams wrapped Eugene's favorite song around the baton that had conducted the orchestra 753 consecutive nights and placed them with the other mementoes.

"When all had contributed their offerings the score and libretto were put in and the trunk was packed and labeled and labeled as follows: 1835—Ermine—1888. Good-bye, Sweetheart, Good-bye."

The trunk was to be put in one of the vaults of the Casino as a curiosity for the next generation; the key was to be placed in a frame and hung in Mr. Aronson's office.

"Aud Lang Syne" was sung by the company, accompanied by the orchestra, and just as the last light was extinguished by the janitor all had departed in a frame and homes the midnight bells of a distant church pealed forth a welcome to "Nady."

"The original company included Francis Wilson, W. S. Daboll, Henry Hillam, Max Freeman, Murray Woods, Pauline Hall, Jennie Weatherly and Agnes Folsome."

Comes now Sir Harry Lauder, with the announcement that it is better to have $1000 in the bank than any number of credentials. The latter can be faked up, but the former is a reality.

NICARAGUA ROUTE IS FAVORED FOR SECOND U.S. CANAL

Administration Considers the Building of Another Waterway From Profits of First.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—President Harding's administration favors application of the profits accruing from operation of the Panama Canal to the construction of a new inter-oceanic waterway, it was said by a White House spokesman.

The question was up for round-table discussion by the cabinet and though no definite project has been outlined, the cabinet talk was described as "extremely interesting."

Impetus was given to the discussion by Secretary Weeks' explanation to his cabinet colleagues of the striking increase in traffic through the canal last month.

The record shows a fifty per cent greater movement than a year ago. Canal tolls collections have mounted, the cabinet was told, until there is a steadily increasing monthly balance above cost of operation. Presumably it was this fact which brought out the administration's desire that canal profits go toward construction of a new canal from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The outstanding feature as to the increasing canal traffic, it was stated, was the growth of business from coast to coast. Administration officials have been approached by interests seeking to buy two army transports for conversion into refrigerators to carry Pacific coast fruits to eastern markets. It was told that it had not been possible to obtain a sufficient number of suitable vessels for this work from the shipping board.

FAVOR NICARAGUA ROUTE.

Such comment as was available in cabinet circles favored the Nicaraguan canal route, it was said. The least costly method of increasing the traffic capacity from ocean to ocean, it was pointed out at the war department, would be to double the look facilities of the Panama Canal, but it was added that both from a military point of view as to defensibility, and because it would shorten the trip from coast to coast by some five days, the Nicaraguan route appeared most desirable.

In Nicaraguan circles here it was said nothing of a definite nature as to a new canal project had been heard. It was added, however, that canal rights already granted to the United States by that country were valid and that the connecting interest at San Juan, along the route, and Fonseca had been worked out.

It appeared possible that the Central American conference which will hold its final session next week, and the agreements arrived at are expected to be made public, had given some attention to the Central American canal route question.

WOULD INCREASE CAPACITY.

Members of the cabinet were told that the increase of canal facilities was not immediately necessary, as the traffic in January, the peak load carried so far, was only from 35 to 40 per cent of the total local capacity of the big waterway.

Such that business represented a fifty per cent increase within a year, however, and since the transcontinental railroads are viewed as already carrying all the business they can handle, it has occurred to some cabinet members that the problem of keeping the canal capacity ahead of the possible traffic soon must be faced.

As a single item of Pacific coast products seeking an eastern market at reasonable cost, it was said that California's grape production, contrary to all expectations, had increased instead of diminished since prohibition became effective. That state was said now to be producing 25 per cent more than in pre-prohibition days. With cheap transportation available to eastern markets, it was added, not grapes alone, but much other fruit from Pacific states would find ready distribution to the benefit of growers and consumers alike.

In view of cabinet interest in the matter, it is understood that the

"The Traveling Man," a miracle play, by Lady Gregory, with scene laid in Ireland, and "The Kiviyang Temple Bell," dealing with the legends of China completes the program.

Boy Scout Topic At Legion Luncheon

The boy scout problem was the principal subject of discussion yesterday at the weekly luncheon of Oakland Post, American Legion.

The work of the boy scouts in the community, and the effect of the movement on good citizenship, were traced by Postmaster J. Rosborough, who declared that there are 1500 boy scouts in Oakland, and that there exists a great need for scout leaders.

Among the members of Oakland Post, American Legion, several are now scoutmasters, it was announced at the meeting.

OAKLANDER DIES IN L. A. — Vincent Dapp, former Oakland resident, died here recently. He was born in Pasadena. He is survived by a brother, Matthew Dapp, of San Francisco. Dapp was born in Austria. He was formerly a student in Hopkins art institute and the Van Slean's Institute of Art.

Thrift Scot Votes For $1000 Always

Comes now Sir Harry Lauder, with the announcement that it is better to have $1000 in the bank than any number of credentials. The latter can be faked up, but the former is a reality.

The captain asked for their credentials. The Englishman produced his papers, but the Scotchman had to explain that having been shipwrecked on a previous voyage he had no credentials. Both were hired but during the first storm the Englishman, walking along the deck with a bucket in his hand was washed overboard. The Scotchman was elected to apprise the captain.

Removes "Lump" From Stomach

Ever feel as if you had a lump in the pit of your stomach, causing a burning sensation, sour taste, heart palpitation, shortness of breath, bloating or other disagreeable effects? These are some of the most common symptoms of excessive gas resulting from a nervous stomach.

Many people say this "lump" feels like a ball of molten iron, while others claim that it is more like a rock. Of course, it isn't a lump at all, but merely an accumulation of gas in the stomach pressing against the heart or other organs.

By taking Basilmann's Gas Tablets before and after meals, you can prevent distress from gas and aid in correcting the nervous condition responsible for the trouble of heartburn.

You'll find Basilmann's Gas Tablets on sale at all leading druggists. Price, one dollar. Look for the yellow package. J. Basilmann, Chemist, San Francisco.—Advertisement.

Beauty of Kimono Will Be Explained

TOKIO, Feb. 7.—The Home Department is sending abroad Madame Hisayo Yamamoto, an expert in fashions and dress, to study Western modes and fashions to adapt them afterwards to modern Japanese life. She also will introduce to foreign lands the genuine Japanese kimono, which foreigners know as a dressing gown or the attire of the geisha, but whose true artistic beauty they have not yet comprehended.

How To Sleep 3-IN-A-BED

YES, IT CAN be done—but not like this.

The trouble is, most people go to bed with "something" on the mind—or ON THE STOMACH!

The answer is, no matter what the day has brought forth to upset your mind and digestive organs, take Beecham's Pills when you retire.

Though in no sense a "sleeping potion," this 80-years-famous household medicine so harmonizes the system that you can sleep in quiet and perfect rest, even in two feet of bed space.

Beecham's Pills are as efficient and harmless for children as for adults—sweetening the stomach, invigorating digestion and stirring liver and bowels to natural activity.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. The little olive tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They do not injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dizziness" and that lary feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.—Advertisement.

FILIPINO TRIO TO GIVE CONCERT AT BERKELEY HIGH

Musicians Made Hit When They Played For Tribune Radio

The Filipino Trio of Soloists, which pleased thousands last night when they gave a concert from Radio KLX, the TRIBUNE'S broadcasting station, will give a concert next Saturday evening, February 10, at 8:30 o'clock, at the Berkeley High school auditorium. The members of the trio are F. G. Aspre, violinist; Cip D. Bernardo, cellist; and F. Esquerra, pianist. Esquerra is a graduate of the Oakland Conservatory of Music and is taking advanced lessons from Frank Moss of San Francisco.

Bernardo was a member of the Philippine Constabulary band at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915, and at present is appearing at the Granada theater in San Francisco.

Aspre is also a graduate of the Oakland Conservatory of Music and a student at the University of the Philippines. He is studying under Signor de Grassi of Berkeley.

Miss Ethel Rose Taylor, The TRIBUNE'S story lady, will tell three bedtime tales from Radio KLX, this evening, between 7 and 7:30 o'clock.

HAMBURG, Feb. 7.—Police here have uncovered here a "fence" for the disposal of large quantities of valuable articles stolen in Mexico.

They were advised recently that jewelry, gold novelties, etc., were being surreptitiously sold at a certain private dwelling in Hamburg, providing themselves with $5,000 in United States banknotes and posing as foreigners, several officials visited the place. The upheaval was an investigation revealing valuable worth 60,000,000 marks. All bore the imprints of Mexican firms.

3-MILE LIMIT FIGHT STARTS

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—The three mile limit off the coast of the United States was a purely arbitrary and fictitious limitation which has been made obsolete by modern invention, according to a statement by Dr. Clarence T. Wilson of Washington, of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, made public here today.

When the doctrine was written by Byrd'schock," says the statement, "the extreme range of a shore cannon was three miles and as a sovereign nation can only claim to exercise jurisdiction which he is in fact able to police and defend, the three-mile limit was supposed to be the logical boundary of national authority."

"Today the extreme range of a cannon on shore is certainly not less than twenty miles and might, in fact, be very much greater. The United States should assert and maintain the doctrine that it has the right to defend itself by any necessary means against attacks upon its laws which constitute nothing less than a form of warfare."

"Run running vessels have repeatedly congregated off the New Jersey coast outside the three-mile limit. If necessary in order to handle the situation, United States destroyers should be ordered to capture or destroy any run running ship which approaches close enough to the American shore to establish contact."

"At this time the American people cannot be expected to be patient with far fetched legal technicalities. The American people have always known the answer to insult and injury. The government should make that historic answer and it can be best spoken from the throats of naval guns."

TUBERCULOSIS GAINS IN GERMANY

BERLIN, Feb. 7.—Tuberculosis has made such heavy inroads on Germany's population recently that the government is going to go to the aid of the afflicted. The official and unofficial relief agencies.

A short time ago more funds were demanded for the state insurance department which ministers to the tubercular. Its aid extends this winter to 50,000 families. One of the department's regulations requires that, before a family can claim its benefits, at least one member must hold a state insurance policy.

Now a plea for further public subscriptions has been raised by a relief agency which confines its activities to members of the middle classes and operates largely through public funds to aid persons not covered by insurance.

QUEER BLUNDERS IN DIRECTORY

PARIS, Feb. 7.—Four years listing in the telephone directory as a "man midwife" has caused a Paris surgeon to bring action against the government, which is responsible for getting out the directory, to compel a change in his professional description. He asserts that letters, telephone calls, personal complaints and legal notices have been futile. Now he wants damages.

His attorney, in an effort to show how the state telephone service is snarled up in red tape, has dug up from the current directory some queer examples of stupidity. He found that Bolo Pasha, executed as a spy during the war, is still listed in the directory, as are other men who are dead or have disappeared. Two theaters, the Theater Rejane and the Theater Dore, whose names long have been changed, he says, have been unable to have corrections made in the directory.

TURK WAR DEBT IS SMALLEST OF ANY BELLIGERENT

Campaigns Conducted on a Shoestring Since 1914; No Money Printed.

PARIS, Feb. 7.—Turkey is the least bankrupt of any nation that has taken an active part in the world war, according to information reaching here. The chief reason is that apparently she has conducted her wars since 1914 with the strictest economy. The present Ankara or Nationalist government, which has been fighting the Greeks and holding off the Allied Powers since 1919 has resisted the temptation to print up any new money.

The total pre-war and war debt of Turkey, is estimated to run barely above $1,000,000,000. This sum is regarded as ridiculously low when it is remembered that, by way of comparison, France owes the United States a war debt of $3,400,000,000, and Germany owes the Allies approximately $34,000,000,000.

An analysis of Turkey's finances shows she became bankrupt in 1914, after foolish Sultans and their corrupt ministers had contracted unproductive foreign loans. In 1931 Abdul Hamid, in order to satisfy these loans, turned over the salt and other monopolies to an institution known as the Public Debt, to be directed by foreigners until their debts should be paid.

In one way or another Turkey owed abroad in 1914, 165,000,000 Turkish pounds. This unit had a pre-war value of $4.46. Also she had a funded debt of 152,000,000 Turkish pounds. Of the foreign debt, roughly the equivalent of $800,000,000, France held 60 per cent, Germany 21 per cent, and Great Britain, Holland and Belgium, about 19 per cent.

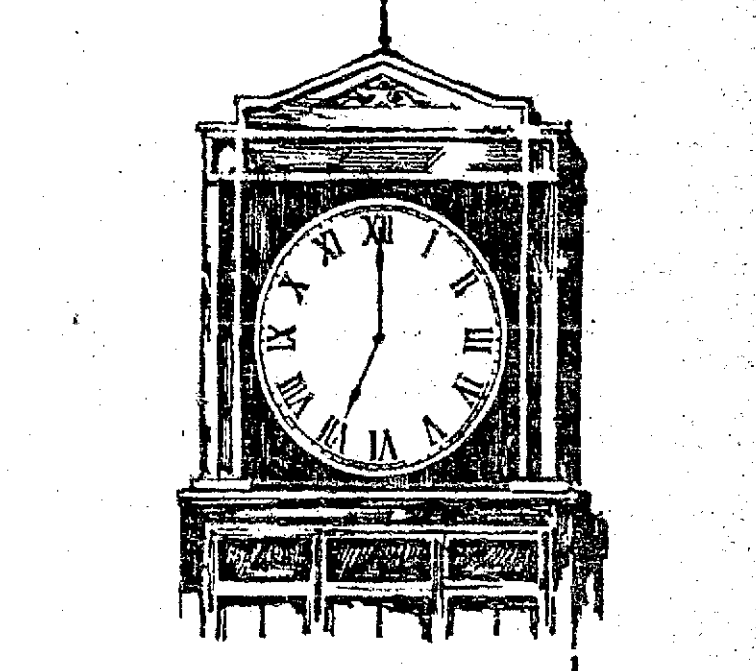

Turkey's war debt expenses have been described as "the most amazing thing in the history of world war finance." She ran her war on a shoestring. When the army needed anything, it seems to have been either requisitioned from the civil population, or else the army simply went without it. And this army often numbered 1,000,000 men. In 1915, there was one internal loan of 18,000,000 Turkish pounds (about $79,000,000 at the time).

there was a paper money issue of 164,581,400 Turkish pounds, secured by German government treasury bonds, payable 15 years after the war.

Quick Quaker Oats
Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

Ready at 7:05
Before the eggs or coffee

Now our experts have perfected a Quick Quaker Oats—the quickest-cooking oats in the world. Your grocer now has it as well as the regular Quick Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. The cooking is perfect—experts certify to that.

The same exquisite flavor

The fame of Quaker Oats is due to super-flavor. We flake the queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flaviory oats. We get but ten pounds from a bushel.

All the world over Quaker Oats dominates, because people love that flavor. And Quaker will always have it.

Quick Quaker is made from the same queen oats. The flavor is identical. But we cut the grains before flaking. Then we roll them thin and partly cook them—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Now you have a double reason for selecting Quaker Oats. You get that exquisite flavor. And you get, if you wish, flakes that cook almost instantly. In either respect, there is no other oat dish in existence that compares.

HOSPITAL ISSUES ZONE STATEMENT

ALAMEDA, Feb. 7.—The Alameda Sanatorium corporation through the chamber of commerce has issued the following explanation to the citizens of Alameda in regard to the reclassification of the property at the corner of Willow street and Clinton avenue.

"The move to secure additional space adjoining the present site of the sanatorium for the construction of a new $250,000 modern structure has met with concentrated neighborhood opposition and is resulting in Alameda being split into two factions.

"Although the hospital movement has been sanctioned by leading physicians of the bay region the council has not been blocked by the action of the opponents, members of the chamber of commerce declare, and the entire proceedings toward securing a much needed hospital in the city halted.

"The hospital corporation feel the matter has not been explained in its true nature and therefore says to the voters of Alameda that: 'Representations have been made by the opponents to our new hospital project, that we have asked the council to create a hospital zone over a large area in the vicinity of our present one.'

"Some citizens apparently have the impression that all of the property within three or four blocks will be zoned as a hospital area. This is absolutely not true.

"Our application to the city council, if granted, would only affect the particular property on the south side of Clinton avenue for a zone of 200 feet.

"The Berkeley High School zone, which includes the present sanatorium. No other property adjacent thereto, or across the street or anywhere in the vicinity near or remote would be affected." Signed "Alameda Sanatorium, by Kate Creighton."

RICHMOND BOARD SPEEDS CHARTER FOR LEGISLATURE

Freeholders Told Need of Quick Action to Get the Approval of Session.

RICHMOND, Feb. 7.—If the new city charter upon which the board of freeholders has been working for three weeks is completed by next Monday evening when the city council meets, there is a possibility that the charter may be presented to the legislature on April 12, in time for action at this session. Otherwise the charter will hold over until the next session of the legislature, two years hence.

H. A. Mason, charter expert and advisor to the board, pointed out at last night's meeting that, to get action at this session of the legislature it would be necessary that the charter be placed before the council next Monday night and the publication made the following morning. This could be accomplished if the charter election April 12. The council would have to canvass the vote immediately and the charter might then be ready to submit to the legislature on April 12.

Last night's discussion centered on the city manager, the officers of the city whether they should be appointed or elected and by whom.

Tentatively it was decided that the council should appoint the city manager, the city clerk and city attorney. By a vote of 13 to 1 it was determined to have the police judge elected and not appointed, and by a vote of 7 to 6 the decision was reached to elect the city auditor. In the case of the city auditor it was argued that he should not only be independent of the city council, but of the city manager also.

All the remainder of the city officers will be appointed by the city manager, who will have the power to make changes at will.

The city assessor brought up considerable argument, several believing that the voters should elect the official.

It was pointed out that there likely will be consolidation of several of the offices before the sessions finally are approved. When the time comes for separating the consolidated offices it is proposed to provide recourse by ordinance in order to keep the charter adaptable to the requirements of a growing city.

President C. L. Abbott accepted the chair during the meeting last night. The next meeting will be held on Friday evening, February 9.

Residents Frown
On Church, Store;
Ask for Parks

BERKELEY, Feb. 7.—Parks are preferred to churches and stores by residents of the Northbrae section of Berkeley.

At least that is the situation facing the city council. Yesterday E. J. Williams, Berkeley business man, appeared before the council to secure a reclassification of property at a gore at Hopkins and Napa streets for the erection of a new building for Trinity M. E. church.

He was informed by Council, Aronovitch, consultant to the city planning commission, that residents objected to the church.

"It seems to be the state of affairs in Berkeley that even a saloon would be easier to build than a church despite the fact that this is known as a city of churches," protested Williams.

Recently property owners stormed the council chamber from the Northbrae area protesting the erection of a store building at Hopkins and Montgomery streets, and the intention of property owners in the residential area, says Aaronovitch, to secure three gorges in their vicinity and create parks. The third gorge besides those on which the church and store are contemplated is at Hopkins and Alameda. Under the proposed plan the property owners will acquire the three pieces of land under a private community assessment.

The contest brought by Frank and James McMullen of Oakland to break the will of their uncle, the late John McMullen of Norwalk, Conn., was lost today and the bulk of the deceased multimillionaire's estate will go to Cornell University.

The will was received today in despatches from Bridgeport, Conn., where the suit to gain control of the estate had been brought by the McMullens.

The verdict was brought at the direction of the court after a conference of counsel.

The McMullens claimed that their uncle was of unsound mind and that he had been unduly influenced by his niece, Laura A. Hughes of Norwalk.

BERKELEY, Feb. 7.—"Say it some other way, but not with flowers."

This is the edict issued by the authorities of the University of California hospital who have placed a ban on all posies for sick patients.

With the hospital crowded with students, the nurses have enough work to do as the excuse offered by those in charge.

According to Dr. Ruby Cunningham, one of the consulting physicians, the shortage of time on the part of the nurses, and the lack of vases to hold the bouquets, expressions of sympathy that pour in at all hours of the day, is responsible for the ban.

DR. REINHARDT,
BARROWS TO TALK

"Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt has a message that all Oakland should hear," says the invitation of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce to the Mills College luncheon to be held at the Hotel Oakland Friday.

"Oakland must answer definitely whether or not Mills College is to remain a community asset," the statement of the chamber of commerce continues. "A backward step is not in keeping with the spirit of Oakland."

The principal address is to be made by Dr. David P. Barrows, president of the University of California. He and Dr. Reinhardt are the two speakers. The meeting will be presided over by Harrison S. Robinson, president of the chamber.

The Mills College Choral Society, consisting of twenty girls, and directed by Mrs. Mauretta Sweeney, will furnish the music.

This meeting is not one of solicitation, and the promise is given that no financial appeal will be made. It is a get-together, however, of those interested in Mills College and the future of Oakland. A large attendance is anticipated.

Part of Magalia

CHICO, Feb. 7.—The second fire within a year visited Magalia, near here, yesterday, wiping out the entire west side of town and destroying property to the value of $25,000. Property destroyed consisted of residence owned and occupied by A. E. Smith, residence owned by Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Knox, two residences owned by William Meyers, residence and store owned by O. E. Warren, residence and store owned by L. Cohen. Lack of fire fighting apparatus greatly handicapped the residents of the town, and they were unable to contain the flames. of Measure, Sees Tract's Great Future.

MARTINEZ, Feb. 7.—Senator Will R. Sharkey's bill for completion of Mount Diablo park, which was presented to the legislature last week, provides for the purchase of additional land and for comprehensive improvements.

Senator Sharkey believes enthusiastically in the splendid future of this park, and looks for favorable action by the state authorities in providing funds.

"In Mount Diablo park we have an opportunity for recreation grounds that will ultimately afford much pleasure to all our people," Senator Sharkey said. "From the top of the mountain, an elevation of nearly 4000 feet, we can look out over thirty-eight counties in California. We see the sun as it sinks into the ocean through the Golden Gate."

"I believe that the people want to see a great park established on this mountain and I believe that they will back it to the limit when they realize its possibilities."

"We are fortunate in the personnel of this commission. Mrs. C. L. Dodge of Crockett, the secretary, is most active in women's club work. The other members of the commission are men of affairs, substantial citizens, who are giving loyalty of their time and energies that this great project might be made a success. James F. DIFFERENCES OF
DALTON FAMILY
WILL BE AIREDFrank N. Seeks to Oust Henry
P. As General Manager of Company.

Revealing family differences over the affairs of Henry Dalton & Sons Company, a founder concern, Frank Dalton, in his own name and that of the company, has filed a suit against Henry P. Dalton to oust him as general manager, charging that he was placed in that position through the fraud and conspiracy of Julia A. Dalton, Ada M. Dalton and Henry P. Dalton himself.

It is related that from the time the firm was incorporated and organized in 1892 by Henry N. Dalton, now deceased, and his wife, Julia A. Dalton, and up to the death of Henry Dalton Sr., in 1913, the affairs of the concern were conducted harmoniously.

It was in 1920 that Mrs. Julia M. Dalton, the mother, with the votes of her daughter, Ada M. and son Frank P., placed the latter in the position of general manager, raising the salary of the position from $150 to $200 a month. It is alleged that at that time Frank N. Dalton, the other son, and Mrs. Adah J. Ruthenford, a granddaughter, voted against the change, it is related.

Since that time, it is charged, the business of the concern has greatly decreased under the management of Henry P. Dalton, and the property and funds of the concern have been squandered. The complaint asks that a restraining order be issued to prevent Henry P. Dalton from acting further as manager and wasting the funds of the company. A second complaint asked that the defendant be restrained from acting as director as he rightfully holds no share in the company, having been declared a bankrupt.

The issues will be fought out before Superior Judge Joseph S. Knoff Friday on an order for Henry P. Dalton to show cause why the restraining order should not be issued.

Snow Collection
Of Wild Animals
Accepted by City

The city of Oakland is now in possession of a medium-sized but lively zoo.

By resolution of the board of park directors yesterday, the city formally accepted the offer of Explorer H. A. Snow to give over his assortment of wildcats, monkeys, lions and snakes, and the park officials took immediate possession.

For the present the zoo will remain behind the present temporary city museum at Nineteenth and Alice, but as the zoo is classified as "capable of indefinite expansion," it is believed that the outfit ultimately may have quarters at Lakeside Park. The park board yesterday admitted that it was willing to let the zoo expand.

If anyone has a stray elephant or giraffe, which he wishes to donate to the public, the donation will be considered by the park directors.

Snow's zoo, it is admitted, is no trifling affair. Two lion cubs and a boobyconstrutor form its nucleus, while various monkeys, bobcats, a cinnamon bear, a mountain lion, a badger and several other hot-tempered specimens are included in the menagerie. A rough estimate places the number of large animals at twenty. The collection is valued at from $30,000 to $50,000.

"On behalf of the city of Oakland," says President Sanborn, of the Park Board, "we are delighted to accept this valuable collection."

MOOSE TO HAVE

BIG GYMNASIUM

Oakland Lodge of Moose will begin work immediately upon a gymnasium to be installed at a cost of $20,000 in the clubrooms at Twelfth and Clay streets. The Moose will be the first fraternal organization in Oakland to have a gymnasium. The plans call for a modern outfit, including basketball, basket and volleyball courts, running tracks, showers and other features.

Oakland Lodge of Moose owns its own clubhouse and other properties valued at $25,000. It has a membership of 2500, and the membership campaign is soon to be held, and it is expected to increase the membership to more than 4000.

W. J. Hamilton, secretary of the organization, and also chairman of the board of supervisors of the city of Oakland, is an enthusiastic supporter of the gymnasium. Clifton A. Brooks, dictator of Oakland lodge, is also active in the movement.

At a meeting held by the lodge last night, Judge George E. Smith, Judge B. J. Tyrrell, George E. Gross, M. Goldwater, C. H. Secombe, L. Wiener, A. L. Redlick and others urged that a gymnasium be constructed by the lodge. It is expected to complete the work within 60 days.

"This will be," Secretary Hamilton said, "one of the most up-to-date gymnasiums to be found anywhere in California. Oakland Lodge of Moose has always worked for the good of the community by working for the good of its membership. For instance, the Loyal Order of Moose has considered the needs of the future of America by taking care of the children of deceased members by educating and training them at Mooseheart, an institution maintained for the purpose of developing and training these children to be better citizens of the America of tomorrow. And realizing that after all a period is reached in the lives of men and women when they are no longer able to take care of themselves, the Loyal Order of Moose has provided a home known as Moosehaven, near Orange Park, Fla., where the order is now taking care of the members who are no longer able to provide for their needs.

The plans for this big athletic feature for Oakland Lodge of Moose are in charge of the following committee: L. J. Jones, A. J. Donovan, A. B. Moffitt, W. J. Hamilton, Daniel Read, W. J. Bacaus, John Mott, Lee Bertillon, George Posey, E. D. Sugden, Walter F. Gibson, C. D. Gadsden, Edgar S. Hunter, W. W. Jacobs, J. W. Musselman, H. R. Elder, A. L. Redlick, E. Alvera, C. H. Secombe and M. H. Hendrickson.

Uncle Wiggily

Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S ALARM CLOCK.

"Uncle Wiggily, would you mind if I went away and remained over night?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy in the hollow stump bungalow one afternoon.

"Where are you going?" the bunny rabbit gentleman wanted to know.

"Oh, just over to Mrs. Twisty-tail's," answered the muskrat lady housekeeper. "She is going to have company this afternoon and evening and she wanted me to come and help her. It will be late tonight when every one is gone, so I thought I might stay until morning, if you didn't mind."

The Bob Cat took away the alarm clock.

"Oh, I don't mind! I'm not afraid to stay here alone all night," said Uncle Wiggily.

"The only thing I'm afraid of," went on Nurse Jane, "is that you won't wake up tomorrow morning in time for breakfast. You may sleep until noon if I'm not here, and I can hardly leave Mrs. Twisty-tail's house before breakfast to come here and awaken you."

"No, don't do that," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll set my alarm clock to wake me up at 7 and then I can get my own breakfast. You may then come home when you please."

"Do you think that will be all right?" asked Nurse Jane.

"Of course it will!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Tonight, before I go to bed, I'll wind and set my alarm clock. In the morning, at 7, the bell will ring ting-a-ling, and I'll hear it and get up."

"Well, try your alarm clock now, to see if it works," said Nurse Jane, and the gunny gentleman did. Surely enough, the bell rang at 7, which was his time for getting up.

Then Nurse Jane went over to stay all night with Mrs. Twisty-tail, the pig lady, and Uncle Wiggily hopped over to have supper with Grandmother Goosey Gander.

Uncle Wiggily returned to his bungalow that evening. He wound and set his alarm clock and hopped into bed.

"I'll sleep until the bell awakens me at 7 in the morning," he said. Every thing might have been all right except for the bad Bob Cat. That afternoon the Bob Cat, hiding near Uncle Wiggily's bungalow, had heard the talk about the alarm clock and about Nurse Jane going to be away all night.

"Now is my chance to catch Uncle Wiggily," thought the Bob Cat. "I'll sneak up when he's asleep and reach in through his open window and take away his alarm clock. Then he won't wake up at 7."

"Then I'll get the Wozzie Wolf and Fuzzy Fox, and we'll come back and slip in the bungalow by early daylight. Uncle Wiggily will sleep soundly, for the alarm clock won't ring to awaken him. And we can nibble his ears! Hal Hal! We can nibble his ears!"

When Uncle Wiggily was asleep that night the Bob Cat reached in through the open window and took away the alarm clock. The Bob Cat was afraid to go in all alone and nibble the bunny's ears then. He wanted to wait until daylight and get the Fox and Wolf to help him.

At 7 o'clock the Bob Cat with the alarm clock sneaked over to the den of the Fox and Wolf.

"Come and help me nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears," invited the Bob Cat. "He will be sleeping soundly, for I have taken away his alarm clock."

"We'll come!" growled the Fox and Wolf.

But, it happened, a Blue Jay bird, whom Uncle Wiggily had been feeding all that winter outside the bungalow door, heard what the bad animals said, and the Blue Jay saw the Bob Cat sneak off with the alarm clock.

"Hal! I'll fool those chaps!" whispered the Blue Jay. "I'll be the alarm clock for Uncle Wiggily. I'll wake him up at 7! Then the Blue Jay flew off ahead of the Bob Cat, Wolf and Fox to the bungalow. Perching himself on the sill of the bunny's open window, the Jay cried:

"Hay! Hay! Hay! Hurry! Hurry! Wake up! Wake up! Wake up!"

Uncle Wiggily sat up in bed, rubbing his eyes.

"What a funny alarm clock," he said. "It didn't ring a bell at all!"

"Well, you'll feel funny if the Bob Cat, Fox and Wolf nibble your ears," screeched the Blue Jay, and the Blue Jay flew off all that had happened. The bunny thanked the bird and called in a Policeman Dog, who arrested the bad animals as they sneaked alone soon afterward. And the Policeman Dog took the alarm clock away from the Bob Cat.

So the bunny was saved by the king Blue Jay, and Nurse Jane said it was a wonderful adventure. I think you'll don't you, and the Blue Jay was in the middle of the night.

Courting Days

Hank Hensley—
Had six strapping girls—
Who long had lost their mother—
And when he stood them in a row—
They ran up just like stair-steps—
Quite often friends would tell old Hank—
That he should be so very proud—
But Hank would only stand and grin—and say—
Just wait till courtin' days begin—
I've got to get these girls all harnessed—
And broke to pace with willing mate—
Before I say—"Well done, old man—
Your sun is setting!"

The oldest soon began to sigh—
A sigh that pleased Hank Hensley's eye—
And soon upon Hank's parlor chair—
A suitor sat with curly hair—
And blank expression—

The daughter came and smirked and smiled—
And many winter nights beguiled—
While Hank took observations—
The weary weeks droned into months—
And still the blank-faced stupid dunc—
Sat silent—and twirled his fingers—

Then Hank discarded all conventions—
And asked this duncy his intentions—
He said he'd ask the girl to wed—
If Hank would only go to bed—
For how can man pay ardent suit—
If he expects the old man's boot—

And so he asked—and she said yes—
That's far enough to go I guess—
The months went by until came June—
Then number two began to spoon—
Her hero was a thin-necked man—
Built somewhat on the giraffe plan—

But he could play a trombone—
And every night he'd fill the air—
With hum notes neither rich nor rare—
Awoke Hank from his snoring—
For now Hank early went to bed—
Nor could forget what first one said—

About his presence boring—
At last this trombone playing loon—
Remarked that on the coming June—
He'd like to wed Hank's daughter—
And Hank smiled wide—his blessing gave—
Soon timid maid—and man, the brave—

Walked willing to the slaughter—
Then Hank inhaled deep breaths of air—
And thought the world was passing fair—
Then number three showed symptoms plain—
That somewhere was a yearning pain—
While Hank glowed deep with pleasure—

Prospective sons-in-law to Hank—
Were his life's richest treasure—
Last night Hank stood at cottage gate—
A man approached—quite shy—eager—
Hank whispered low—"Oh promised land—
He has some flowers in his hand."

The Adventures of Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy

When Raggedy Andy and the Knight heard that the Giant did not really and truly eat people, they untied the string from around the Giant's nose, for it was uncomfortable. You see, the Giant and the Knight had chased each other until the Knight captured the Giant and tied him to a tree.

"I only eat gingerbread men, with raisin eyes!" the Giant told them.

"And here I thought you and I were fighting all the time!" the Knight laughed. "And now that I know we were not fighting, I can quit shaking and being frightened!"

"There is no reason for you to be frightened at me!" the Giant laughed heartily. "For I was only playing with you all the time! And now," he continued as he stood up, "it is just about time for school to be out, so if you will come into my cave you can see all the children come out of school and go to the dining room. I have them for dinner every day!"

"You don't mean that you eat them for dinner, do you?" the Knight asked as he started shaking again.

"Indeed, I do not eat them!" the Giant replied. "I told you once before that Giants do not eat people! Giants are really very kind!"

And because I love children I have all the orphans around here live at my cave. And they go to school every morning and after dinner they have all the afternoon in which to play. There goes the school bell now!"

Raggedy Andy and the Knight followed the Giant into his cave and were so surprised to find it a great large room with hundreds of pretty lights all about. And as they watched they saw the children march down a stairway and into another part of the cave. When the last little boy had marched into the dining room the Giant and the Knight and Raggedy Andy went in, too.

The teacher and all the orphan children sat down at a long, long table and the Giant and the Knight and Raggedy Andy sat at the head of the table.

Then the Giant said grace and rang a bell which tinkled away back in the kitchen. Then a strange thing happened. The edge of the long table began moving, just like a moving sidewalk, out into the kitchen and around the table again, until each child had a lovely dinner right in front of him.

Then you should have heard the chatter of little knives and forks and spoons as the children ate their dinner.

They laughed and talked and had as nice a time as if they were all at a lovely birthday party, for the Giant told Raggedy Andy and the Knight that he always tried to have nice things for the children to eat, because there were so many children each day was sure to be someone's birthday.

Then after they had all finished their ice cream the teacher rang a bell and all the children ran out of doors to play. "I think you are a very, very nice, kindly Giant!" Raggedy Andy said. And indeed this was quite true.

THE SLEEPER IS WAKING.

"When the Sleeper Wakes" is the title of a book written by the versatile and prolific H. C. Wells, many years ago. It might well describe a world condition at the beginning of the new era upon which we have already entered. It took the awful convulsion of the great war to "stab us broad awake."

The sleeper is waking to a new material world. In a single generation we have all witnessed the unlocking of many of the sealed doors of nature.

E. E. Slosson reveals in his fascinating book "Creative Chemistry," than which a detective story is not more thrilling, how marvelous are the conquests of the modern chemist. Dump heaps and waste materials under his wizard hand yield by-products often worth more than the original product.

The sleeper is waking to human values and the necessity of a better social order. The world is getting to be one big family. The economic chaos of one nation affects all. That is why an international understanding, call it a league or any other name, is a prime necessity.

Sooner or later we will reverse the statement so libelous of our intelligence. "Human life is cheap; only dollars are dear."

The cost of a man, evidenced by the age-long process of his evolution and redemption, is being taken into account. He is too fine a product to be "cannon fodder" for future wars. The killings, maimings and economic loss through industrial wars, sickness and poverty will give way to a more humane order of society.

Still, when we change the Golden Rule from a recitation to a reality and begin to love our neighbor as ourself.

JUBILEE'S PARTNER

by Judd Mortimer Lewis

Me and Jubilee laid quite a while and thought about Valentine day this morning when we woke up. I thought about Valentine day and Jubilee thought about me. Because I am the only valentine he knows anything about. Then I let him down by the rope in his teeth and the weather is not as cold as it was. I sat quite a while with my elbows on the window sill, before I put on my bathrobe, thinking about my ant and how hard she must of not down when she went down the front steps yesterday. There was not any use of her falling down if nobody was to be there to see it.

She looked at it quite a while, and then she said: "So that is what you wanted the hunt for?"

I had to clean out the stable before I went to school and when me and Jubilee got there the bunch was all there. Each one looked like they knew something on me, but none of them said anything. Much asked me to go in and put some coal on the furnace, and whilst I was doing it his wife said: "So you were going to use the bar to catch rats?" I was so surprised I dropped the coal, but she promised not to tell anyone. She said she is a mind reader. I asked her if she could read what I was thinking about then and she said I was thinking about fixing the fire. I told her then. If she had read what I was thinking of then she would of noticed for Mush.

When we got upstairs in our seats Nibs passed me a note on which he had written: "You can't catch rats in a barrel." I wrote: "How did you know what I wanted it for?" and passed it back, and he wrote on it: "I am a mind reader."

I wrote on it: "You are a lie," and was passing it back to him when the teacher saw me and made me bring it to her desk. She looked at it quite a while, and then she said: "So that is what you wanted the bar for?" I bet she was the only one that didn't know it. I had to stay in at recess.

When we got to school I asked Yoniss what she told me, and she said she only told Marge and she promised not to tell. So Yoniss was not to blame after all.

I snuck off from the bunch and went over to Miss Patmore and I asked her what she thought she could do about it if I did not find a way to get any money for a Valentine. She said she was thinking how she could get me something just as good. She is not as bright as anyone as old as she ought to be. There is not anything else just as good as valentine money when it is near Valentine day.

I thought my grand mother asked my aunt where she hurt herself and she told him on the front steps. He said that was what he thought.

I was going to set up and make me a glass-shooter to shoot birds with next summer, but my father said he could see by the way my hair was combed that I needed a good night's rest. That was one on him, because it wasn't combed at all. I went up and pulled Jubilee up. His feet were wet.

LAKEVIEW CLUB

PROTESTS FUND FOR NEW SCHOOL

District Promised $100,000, Apportioned Only $86,000, Is Claim.

Claiming that they were given "short weight" in the appropriation for constructing new schools, a delegation from the Lakeview Improvement Club will confer late this afternoon with the building program committee of the board of education and ascertain if better provisions cannot be made for Lakeview.

Lakeview residents assert they expected $100,000 out of the original $4,925,000 bond issue for improvements to Lakeview school. At Monday night's board of education meeting, however, various alternate contracts for Lakeview additions were decided on, at a cost of $86,000. The residents claim that they have been "short-weighted" $14,000.

Board of education officials point out that in order to reach even the $86,000, some $27,000 had been scraped out from current funds. But Lakeview residents assert they were promised $100,000 and will get $100,000 or know why.

It is admitted in school circles that the original apportionment of the $4,925,000 was hard to adhere to. A building in one district, for instance, cost more than was expected and the money had to be taken from the apportionment of another district. The latter objected and a third district had to be cut, and so on. It is admitted that the apportionments are so mixed that it is hard to tell where anybody stands.

Two Women Are Given Divorces

Mrs. Addie Silva and Mrs. Florence Rhodes Costa today have inter-loditory decrees of divorce granted by Superior Judge James C. Quinn. At hearings held yesterday afternoon Mrs. Silva alleged desertion, while Mrs. Costa, through her guardian, Jennie Rhodes, alleged that she was under age at the time she was married, and that the ceremony was performed without the consent of her parents.

The Silva marriage took place August 7, 1917, and her husband, John Silva, deserted his wife April 18, 1920, according to her testimony.

Mrs. Costa was married to J. J. Costa, November 1, 1922, and separated December 15, 1922.

Other Women Are Charged to Mate

Nicola Santos, a painter, told her, "It is none of your business with whom I am attending dances or keeping company with and to how much money I spend on other women," alleges Mrs. Natalia Santos in a divorce complaint on file today. Santos spent nearly every night away from home, and besides, he had a habit of going to dances and keeping company with other women, she charges. She also charges neglect and failure to provide, and asks for custody of Jacintho, aged 2, and $25 a month maintenance.

She was married to the defendant on the island of Madeira, March 15, 1915.

DISCRETION FOR SEARCHING URGED

It was the inference of Police Judge Bryant today that the "dry squad" should exercise more discretion in searching private houses and citizens to secure evidence against violators of the Wright act.

The statement was made when Attorney Morton Harris charged the plea of not guilty to guilty in behalf of his client, Arthur Seibert, the alleged owner of a soft drink parlor at 701 Webster street.

Policeman Wallace Canning, head of the "dry squad," had informed the court that he placed Seibert under arrest because he had a bottle of jackass brandy in the inside pocket of his coat. Canning told the court that he did not find any liquor behind the bar, but that he saw a suspicious bulge in the pocket of Canning said that he pulled the coat open and found the bottle of whiskey.

Harris contended that the liquor was seized illegally because the officers did not have a search warrant for either the building or for the person of Seibert.

"I think that more discretion should be shown where liquor is seized without a search warrant," said Judge Tyrrell.

He further stated that in the future trouble of some kind might be caused by the illegal seizure of liquor.

The case was continued until tomorrow for sentence.

Four Guardsmen To Receive Medals

Four men, members of Company C, 15th Infantry, California National Guard, who were on a team of twelve men from this state who competed in the national rifle shoot held at Camp Perry, Ohio, last year, will be given medals at a public presentation tonight at the armory, Twenty-third street, near Grove.

The four are William S. Thornton, James K. Kimball, Fred M. Wheeler and George H. Ernst. The California team competed against 119 other teams at the shoot and stood eighth on the list. They were also among the forty-eight high men out of 1920 contestants.

The presentation of medals tonight will be made by Captain Fred M. Logan, instructor in the United States army. Captain Wayne Allen, in charge of the company, has completed the arrangements for the evening.

Captain Allen today announced that the next shoot for medals and for the regular trophy will be held at Leona Heights Sunday, February 12.

A former officer of the company, who has been in the army, navy and marine corps.

Settler in Alameda county, died early this morning at her home, 519 Forest street. A son, George A. McCalley, and two granddaughters, Mrs. Irene Bothwell of San Jose and Mrs. Margaret Farnsworth of this city, survive.

As a child her parents took her to Wisconsin. She came to California in 1855 by way of the Isthmus of Panama, settling in Washington Corners, now the town of Irvington.

Plan For Richmond, S. F. Auto Ferry

RICHMOND, Feb. 7.—The prospect of establishing an auto ferry between San Francisco and Richmond by next summer seems bright. A former officer of the Six-Minute Ferry company of Vallejo is much interested with San Joaquin valley capitalists in the project of operating a ferry from a point near Point Richmond to San Francisco.

An application has already been made to the city council here for the lease of waterfront land just west of the municipal wharf, the council to consider the application at a later meeting.

Attorney N. M. Galles, who represents the promoters, says the company has an option on a fast steel ferry boat capable of making the run in thirty minutes.

BANDIT FATALITY

SHOT, FIRES FIVE TIMES IN RETURN

Body of Gas Station Holdup, Killed at Modesto, Still Unidentified.

MODESTO, Feb. 7.—The marksmanship of Art H. Wendt, who was fatally fired at and fatally wounded one of three oil station bandits Monday night, is the cause for much comment here. Wendt carefully aimed at his man 100 yards distant and sent the bullet crashing through the bandit's chest.

Wendt used a Mauser 30-30 revolver. He only fired twice, although he had eight more cartridges in his automatic.

The fortitude of the bandit, who as yet has not been identified, was also remarkable. After the bullet had passed clear through his chest he turned and fired five shots in rapid succession at Wendt and E. B. Morgan, filling station employee. Then, without staggering, and stepping only to cough up blood, he walked away toward his car.

Physicians agree he probably was dead twenty minutes later. It would have taken their car less than that time to reach the side road where the body was found yesterday morning under a bus.

Wendt hesitated to fire because he was not certain that the man pointed out to him was a bandit. He had just come from his paint shop at the excited call of Morgan, who pointed the bandit out as the man who had just robbed him. Only on repeated demands of Morgan did Wendt fire. It developed later that Morgan was mistaken in his man, and that the one fired on was the bandit who had robbed the Standard Oil station across the street from the Shell station served by Morgan.

"If I had had a gun I'd have killed them both," said Morgan today.

Wendt will be given a reward by the Standard Oil company for his act, said J. L. Malony, local manager for the company, today. The Standard Oil has a reward offer of $100 reward for evidence leading to the capture and conviction of a bandit who has robbed one of its filling stations.

Although hundreds of persons have seen the body, it has not been identified. Many say they saw the man on "Front street" as Ninth is called, and among these is Chief of Police Lee B. Smith, but they do not know his name. He has been about Modesto for several days.

Finger prints have been taken and sent to Sacramento on the chance that he has a criminal record.

Alleged Affinity Named By Wife

The frequent absences from home of William H. Gallagher, a cement worker, were explained when she found out that he was associating with other women, one of them being Mrs. Rose Markle, 1277 Commercial avenue, who is whom he wrote endearing letters, alleges Mrs. Sarah Gallagher in a divorce suit instituted today.

The alleged affinity is the wife of Charles A. Markle, a laborer, it is claimed.

Gallagher refused explanation of his absences, she says.

The complaint, filed by Attorney H. S. Craig, says the couple married in Daly City, July 20, 1914, separating December 20 last, and that they have a child, William H. Jr., aged 8. The wife asks custody of the boy and $35 a month for his support.

C. F. Michaels, son of the late Henry Michaels, former head of the wholesale drug firm of Langley-Michaels, today was given property from his father's estate valued more than $250,000. The Michaels estate is valued at $1,049,720. The action taken by Superior Judge E. C. Robinson, was in the nature of a partial distribution of the estate, which was left to the son, with the exception of a certain trust fund set aside for a sister of C. F. Michaels.

RAT IN HER BED CAUSES WIFE TO SEEK A DIVORCE

The terrifying experience of having her husband throw a live rat into her sick bed is charged by Mrs. Daisy Dalesini, a divorcee suit filed against Olympia J. Dalesini, a carpenter, whom she married in Oakland, November 6, 1918. She also charged her husband had been her husband and once smashed seventy-five records and tore the top of the talking machine when he came home intoxicated.

The rat, she says, was thrown into her bed on February 2, and she left her husband the next day in spite of the fact that he had told her sister that he would kill her if she ever left him, the wife asserts. She asks only $1 a month alimony.

TRAFFIC SQUAD IS SAFETY BUREAU

The police traffic squad is hereafter a safety bureau and as such a safety department as the city's health department.

This ruling was promulgated today by Commissioner Frank Colbourn to Chief of Police James T. Drew and Sergeant Charles Hennrich of the traffic department, in an endeavor to lower the city's accident rate.

Colbourn also announced that four motorcycle patrolmen will be stationed about the city in the near future.

This, according to Colbourn, does not mean that Oakland will have four licensed speed-manufacturers who are permitted to race along the street at 60, 70 and 80 miles per hour, but it means that four men will hold station somewhere and await tidings of speeders coming along the avenues, where other policemen have taken the speeders' numbers and telephoned ahead.

"Los Angeles, which has the largest collection of motorcycle speed cops, has the largest accident and death rate," says Colbourn. "Oakland is fifth in proportion to population. We want our rate to go lower, not higher. For that reason we desire a conservative use of speed patrolmen to discourage speeders, but not to stamp out a use of speed patrolmen, thus these privileged characters will add to the general confusion."

The police department will hold several conferences in the near future on the subject of speed and safety.

HAPPY DOG BAYS AT MOON, THEN DIES OF POISON

10-Year-Old Youngster Tells of Faithful Pet, Which Has Unhappy End.

Among the contestants for the prize in the essay contest on the subject "Why My Dog Is the Best Pet" is La Verne Wilcox, aged 10 years, of 1622 Center street, Oakland. Here is La Verne's essay:

"I am going to tell you a story about the faithfulness of my dog. Once upon a time I had a dog named Happy. We named him that because he never got angry at anyone. Was always happy to see even a tramp. He would sit at the gate and wait for me. If I came home later than he expected he would sit down and cry until I came. Then he would put his paw around my neck and lick my face. He had one bad habit and that was, whenever he saw the moon he would sit down on the steps and howl, as if he wanted the moon to come down and talk to him. Finally he got poisoned and died. I know I will never get a dog so faithful and true as he was again, and I don't think there is no other dog so happy as he was."

"The End."

Two contests are now being held for dog owners, as follows: ESSAY CONTEST.

A prize of $10 will be given the boy or girl who contributes the best essay on the subject, "Why My Dog Is the Best Pet." The essay must not be longer than 250 words. ## DEEP CHANNEL TO HARBOR URGED

To delay construction of a deep water channel through the Golden Gate, as proposed by Colonel Herbert Dwayne to the War Department a year ago, is, as follows, according to Captain Stanford E. Moses, U. S. N. He urges the completion of the task as a commercial and war measure.

An assistant commander of the Twelfth Naval District, and Lieutenant M. D. Stone, made an all day undersea inspection of the sea floor outside the Golden Gate on board the U. S. S. Submarine S-3 yesterday.

The sound and north approaches to the bay as they affect the super dreadnaughts of the Pacific Fleet were mapped by Captain Moses, using the sonic lead, the latest naval device.

The depth of the sea floor outside the Golden Gate is the first ever made by submarine. According to Captain Moses, the channel would obviate danger.

MISS ROSE VALLANCE, one of the young women of Hayward who had charge of arrangements for the Valentine dance given last night by the Royal Neighbors of America.

HAYWARD, Feb. 7.—The Chamber of Commerce will attempt to bring about the establishment of an agricultural department at the Hayward high school. Decision to endorse the proposal made to the chamber and the Alameda County Farm Bureau by Professor F. L. Griffin, of the University of California, for the establishment of such a department was reached last night by the board of directors of the chamber. Saturday Griffin will propose the project to the board of directors of the Alameda County Farm Bureau.

Griffin declares that the university will make the department the finest in any high school in the state, and will use it as an example for their advanced students in agriculture. It is estimated that maintenance of the department will cost $2500 a year. Of this sum the state would receive $1150 from the Smith-Hughes funds, the University $500 from its teachers' fund, and the high school district the remainder.

At last night's meeting of the board February 27 was set as the date for the forum meeting of the chamber of this month. The meeting will be held at the headquarters of the chamber, 1000 Broadway.

The calf was the victim of a three-letter society not of the gang of thieves believed to be operating in the East Bay regions.

Value of Feminine Taste in Home Recognized, Says Men Delegates.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—Unprecedented numbers of women delegates and visitors are attending the sessions of the Furniture Dealers' convention and Market Week which opened here yesterday, a fact which leading furniture men today declared to be due to the increasing demand for better and more attractive homes resulting from the national Better Homes movement.

Many of these women, it was explained, have been sent to the convention by the larger retail establishments of the Pacific Coast to take the intensive course in interior decorating and color and light effects, which is being given at the Furniture Exchange by experts.

"The public is growing more and more insistent upon taste and artistry in the furnishings of its homes," said one furniture man, "and it is looking to the furniture dealer to meet this demand. The furniture dealers, in their turn, are looking mainly to their women employees as the ones in most cases best fitted to acquire and supply the needed knowledge along these lines."

The principal event at today's session of the convention was an address by H. W. Frontis Jr., sales manager of the Armstrong Cork Company of Lancaster, Pa., on "The Importance of Proper Floor Display." On Friday, Bernard C. Jalcway, extension lecturer of the University of California, will give an illustrated talk on "The Furniture Periods." On Friday night, the official play night, the visitors will be the guests of the association at a banquet and feature show.

Rhubarb Growers Getting Together

SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 7.—Thirty rhubarb growers of this city and neighboring section met yesterday afternoon with F. N. Bigelow, head of the division of markets, San Francisco, and expressed themselves as one hundred per cent in favor of the establishment of a rhubarb growers' association here. A marketing agreement was presented and met with instant approval. The agreement will undergo slight corrections by a committee within the next two days. On receipt, canvass of the growers unable to attend the meeting will be made to secure their support in the project.

Following in the committee of growers appointed to make the canvass and act as organizers of the proposed association: J. J. Smith, president; Harry Smith, secretary; John Mello, treasurer; Robert King, Harold Meek, Edward Holland and A. Bruga.

At yesterday's meeting, held in the warehouse of Edward Holland, Benoit Station, it was decided that the growers were reuniting 400 acres of rhubarb. It is estimated that there are more than 500 acres devoted to the product. Particular attention, it was mentioned, is being paid to the smaller growers, who are being encouraged to produce unusually active in the organization of the association.

Citizens Urged to Attend C. of C. Meet

OAKLAND FESTIVAL STARTED.

A movement which will perform notably for the good of Oakland and the Eastbay may come out of the meeting held yesterday when there were launched the plans for an Oakland pageant. In addition to that team-work which is needed for the success of any community undertaking there must be exhibited in this enterprise a broad vision and a thorough understanding of subject.

An annual pageant for Oakland, if it is to be one which will stand upon its merits among the festivals of the cities of the country, will attract a wider attention to the Eastbay, win new friends for the city, and stimulate the forward spirit of civic workers. It must, however, be a worth-while pageant, no mere street carnival of doubtful concessions, and something more than a parade of industrial floats.

The day of the small town carnival which often does more harm than good, is passed. Oakland's bid for attention must be well planned and distinctive.

If Oakland is to have a pageant it must "speak Oakland" through the media of dramatics and tableaux, music and color. There is no lack of setting with Lake Merritt and the Auditorium and there is a wealth of historical background which may be made the central theme. The days of the rancho, the hacienda, the Spanish gentlemen, the cattlemen, memories of Joaquin Miller, all speak for place. The University, Mills College and St. Mary's may participate. Oakland's school music is the best in the world. The Eastbay is the home of at least two men who are nationally famous as directors of dramatics.

PUBLICITY FOR OAKLAND.

The enterprise and daring of an Oakland man in penetrating Africa with a motion picture camera and facilities to develop and protect the film, is attracting national attention to this city. Right now New York and other places are following the exploits of the Snow expedition and learning of the Oakland Museum of Natural History which sponsored the undertaking.

In other ways the city is receiving more publicity, attracting more attention, than at any time in its history. An index is the number of letters received by the Chamber of Commerce from persons in other parts of the country. The number of these received weekly has increased, during the year, by five fold.

This month the International Association of Specialty Salesmen, 3,000 strong, will hold its annual convention in Oakland. In July the National Education Association will meet here and in Berkeley and San Francisco. It is estimated there will be from 20,000 to 25,000 members of the organization in the Bay cities during the week.

These two conventions will call new attention to Oakland and California. Those visitors who are planning to attend the sessions, doubtless, are reading up on California now. When they return they will tell the story to their friends. It is important they have the opportunity to see as many of the varied aspects of California as is possible in the period of their stay—that they have a good time.

It is not suggested these delegates be met by a body of boosters ready to bombard them with statistics, but it is important that the Oakland men and women who act as hosts to the visitors be able to answer questions.

A new home was built in Oakland every twenty minutes of every working day of the year just passed. The building permits were 45 per cent higher in 1922 than in 1921; bank clearings increased 20 per cent; 5,503 new fam-lies came here; sixty-eight new industries, including many of national prominence; the thirty-second city in population ranked 19th in building permits; it ranks third in rate of growth in the United States. There were 3,536 wage earners added to the rolls in 1922, or an increase of 36 per cent. Los Angeles added 2,606 wage earners, or 13.7 per cent. and San Francisco added 948, or 4.9 per cent.

The story is one which is told in many ways and one which speaks for itself. The convention visitors will see new buildings going up downtown and in the various outer centers. They will see new homes in all parts of the Eastbay. Seeing all these things they will ask questions and the answers which are given are those they will take back home. It is important there be no guessing, that the solid facts be given.

AIRPLANE PROGRESS.

Recent developments in air travel are no less than startling. A speed of two hundred miles an hour has been accomplished. To rise vertically from the ground is a demonstrated fact. Men are able to fly at night, through the storms, and through the fog.

"Aeronautics," says Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, Assistant Chief of the Air Service of the United States Army, "is progressing more rapidly at this time, both from a scientific standpoint—as far as the development of flying machines of all kinds is concerned—and also in the art of handling the flying planes."

The worst enemy of the flier remains the fog near the ground and progress in eliminating it over the landing fields has been made. Men talk from plane to plane, from the ground to plane and from plane to the ground, over the radio, and the radio guides the pilots to the landing places. Airplanes have been sent on long journeys with no living pilots in them, the control being a gyroscopic instrument. The machines so controlled, rise from the ground and fly at the altitude desired.

During the year the Post Office Department will establish a mail service between New York and San Francisco and will make the trip in twenty-seven hours, total elapsed time. In Europe the commercial air service, carrying passengers and freight, has operated more miles and with fewer casualties than have the railways.

"In addition," says General Mitchell, "by the aid of radio impulses, airplane courses may be changed or, if blown off the course by the wind, they may be brought back to it. Airplanes may be controlled by radio from the air as well as from the ground, so that it is entirely within the realm of possibility that an airplane with its crew may start out and control a number of others flying near and around it."

"Aircraft are the only things in existence that are able to deliver their cargoes at a station in the air. Nothing can compete with them in this respect, so that, from a military standpoint, when it is desired to deliver a bomb, gun, or observer wherever they will have the most effect on an enemy, aircraft have no equals."

"Each day sees an increase in the radius of action of the airplane. In our own Air Service the airplane has remained aloft for thirty-five hours and during that time has covered some three thousand miles. The distance from Ireland to Newfoundland is only seventeen hundred miles. One of the great Zeppelin airships turned out by the Germans could carry sufficient fuel to go around the world at the latitude of New York."

BY ANY OTHER NAME

It may be suggested that those who do not care for the Itzama try, instead, the Lamat. Fortunately there are other choices, the Kayah, Hunaph and Mayapan. Surely in this lot one should find the avocado of his choice!

The naming of the varieties of the avocado, or alligator pear, has caused some startled comment the country over. These are imposing and intriguing names. They suggest the majesty and the brilliance of a string of Pullman cars, cigarette. One may imagine the housewife telephoning her grocer to send up a half dozen Hunaphs and a couple of Itzamas. One may imagine the reply!

There must be a scientific designation. Generally speaking an avocado, under any name, is an alligator pear, and alligator pears are good to eat. They were brought to this country first from Guatemala, where centuries ago, according to the archaeologists, there flourished a race of Mayans, a people of highly developed civilization. In honor of the Guatemala which gave us the avocado the names of the fruit's varieties are taken from the ancient Mayan language. Itzama is the name of a Mayan god. Lamat and Hunaph are days in the week. Mayapan was a city.

Now they are all alligator pears. With arrests near in both the Taylor and the hammer case the situation remains unchanged.

"Indoor Golf appears on Chicago Cafe Menu"—headline. And do they make use of the tea caddies?

For adding the greatest number of punches in city development in a given time there is nothing like a riveting machine.

Song.
From out the echo of remembered things Sweeping through silent skies on spinning wings,
A song is thrilling from the stars
To me.
I have rejoiced to hold one single note
To form imperfectly my melody.

Singing my song, I've danced through all the young,
Young years, and listened as my tongue
Wove delicately on my single theme,
When suddenly in a fantastic dream,
I stood beyond, a thousand years to come,
My lips were still and dumb,
Although my thoughts were free.

Then from the stillness of the years
a dart
Of music from the sky thrilled in my heart,
A thousand thousand harmonies,

We can think of a number of

EXCERPTS from the NATIONAL PRESS

The Living Age: "From a rather roundabout source—La Vanguardia of Barcelona, Spain—comes the first authentic version of the causes of Lenin's physical breakdown. According to this informant, Lenin had worked practically 'in a vacuum' ever since his rise to power. He was surrounded by people who protected him from direct knowledge of actual conditions in Russia, and he lived alone with his own theories. When he met the public, the occasion was carefully staged and the people with whom he came in contact were mostly enthusiastic supporters of his regime. One day, however, a Yankee doctor, whose mission was to ascertain the real situation in Russia, preliminary to the work undertaken by the American relief administration, insisted upon interviewing the head of the government. He succeeded, in informed Lenin of the exact situation, which practically 'knocked him out.'"

Washington Post: "That Congress will eventually be controlled by a combination of farm, labor and soldier and mothers' blocs is the prediction of Senator Brookhart. It may come true, but what then? Bloc control means bloc opposition, and it is difficult to see any promise in the substitution of a bloc for a party see-saw. From the Brookhart standpoint, control by the farm, labor, soldier, mothers' bloc combination may seem eminently desirable. But how about the possibility of control by an urban, capitalist, nonsoldier, fathers' bloc combination. If control would be fair for one it would be fair for the other."

THE FORUM

The editor of THE TRIBUNE disclaims responsibility for opinions and statements expressed by contributors.

WORSE AND WORSE?
To the Editor of the Tribune:

The press is criticized for stating ugly facts—"unnecessary detail," etc. While such treatment of unsavory news matter is not desired by some readers, no man remember that the general public likes to know the naked truth. The daily newspaper is catering the news of the world in rough and ready commercialized fashion. It is its business to publish plain, unvarnished facts in a telling and a "selling" way. The idea of toning down or covering up sin or crime is a wrong policy. In my opinion, Mr. Editor I do not consider it the responsibility of the public press to present the news in such manner as to turn the thoughts of the public to "the good things." That responsibility rests more upon the preachers.

I don't think the public newspapers can be run on the lines suggested by the Berkeley gentleman.
What is needed is "more publicity," more exposure of the wicked ways of evil men and women, instead of covering up social corruption. The papers publish things that are true and honorable (and dashon-orable), just (and unjust things also), pure (or impure), lovely (and unlovely); things of good and evil report—for this old world is not in every way, day by day, getting better and better. It is waxing worse and worse. J. B. G.

HIGHWAY ROUTE.

To the Editor of the Tribune:
Some time ago I read in your columns a discussion of the Mother
Lode highway, in which comment was made relative to the present difficulties between Georgetown, Pilot Hill, Coloma and Kelsey over the survey of this highway from Auburn to Placerville.
As a former and future resident of El Dorado county, with a view toward the faithful route of this highway and development of Northern California, I wish to submit the following opinion:

The present survey of the highway from Auburn to Placerville through Cool Pilot Hill and Co-loma seems to be the most valued course. While Marshall's blacksmith shop at Kelsey has its significance it is insufficient in comparison with Marshall's monument and park at Coloma and Fremont's monument at Pilot Hill, to justify a change of highway from its present survey through these last two important tourist points.

There is at present a beautiful park and monument at Coloma in memory of John Marshall upon the site where gold was first discovered in California. From Pilot Hill, where John C. Fremont took observations that led him to the Pacific Coast there is a crude pile of rocks which mark this historic spot. On any clear day Mount Shasta, Mount Diablo and the entire Sacramento valley can be seen from Pilot Hill.
Should the Mother Lode highway be changed from its present survey from Auburn to Placerville, via Pilot Hill and Coloma, the tourist trade would be robbed of the opportunities presented by these two towns, and compensated only by seeing Marshall's blacksmith shop, which is of less importance than alone the spot at Coloma where he discovered gold.

ANSWER TO MICHAELIST.

To the Editor of the Tribune:
It seems deplorable that the editor of the Century printed "one of Mr. Wiggam's characteristic essay-letters."
How could Mr. Frank have argued himself into the belief that to sow seeds of doubt and heresy

Mr. Wiggam, a ready writer, and evidently an industrious man, quotes several notable mechanthat man is as soulless as a dynamo; that he is nothing more than a super-perfected machine. Considering this view, Mr. Wiggam in-dorses this view. He insists that this will come to be a universal belief. Thus, more and more, the publicity he gives to his cause, he ventures a series of conjectures as to how mankind is likely to behave, when all belief in the existence of a soul has been destroyed.

When the time comes that a material force, or machine deplores mechanists have perfected any ma-

'FOLLOW ME' OMAHA'S TIP TO OAKLAND

Ak-Sar-Ben Officials Relate What Has Been Done On the Banks of Missouri by Boosters of Middle West

An institution modeled after the famous "Booster Club" of Omaha, known as the Knights of the Ak-Sar-Ben, would accomplish for Oakland and the Eastbay region what the Nebraska organization has done for the city of Omaha and surrounding territory. Charles T. Gardner, secretary of Ak-Sar-Ben, told a mass meeting of representative Oaklanders yesterday, assembled at the Advertising Club luncheon at the Hotel Oakland.

Gardner has come to this city at the invitation of the Committee of One Hundred which, for the past year, has been working out plans for an elaborate annual festival for Oakland, such as has brought fame and notice to St. Louis through its "Villed Propheet" organization, to Portland through its great "Rose Carnival," and to New Orleans through its "Mardi Gras."

Yesterday's meeting was sponsored by the Advertising Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' Exchange and kindred bodies. L. H. Galbraith, president of the Advertising Club, presided.

Gardner described, in the course of his address, how the Ak-Sar-Ben was organized in 1915, when the city of Omaha and the entire State of Nebraska were recovering from a period of severe depression.

In the first year of its organization, Gardner said, the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben staged a great festival comprising parades, electric pageants, balls and other great festivities, in which all the city's business men co-operated. As a result, Omaha attracted nationwide attention, and many conventions came to the city.

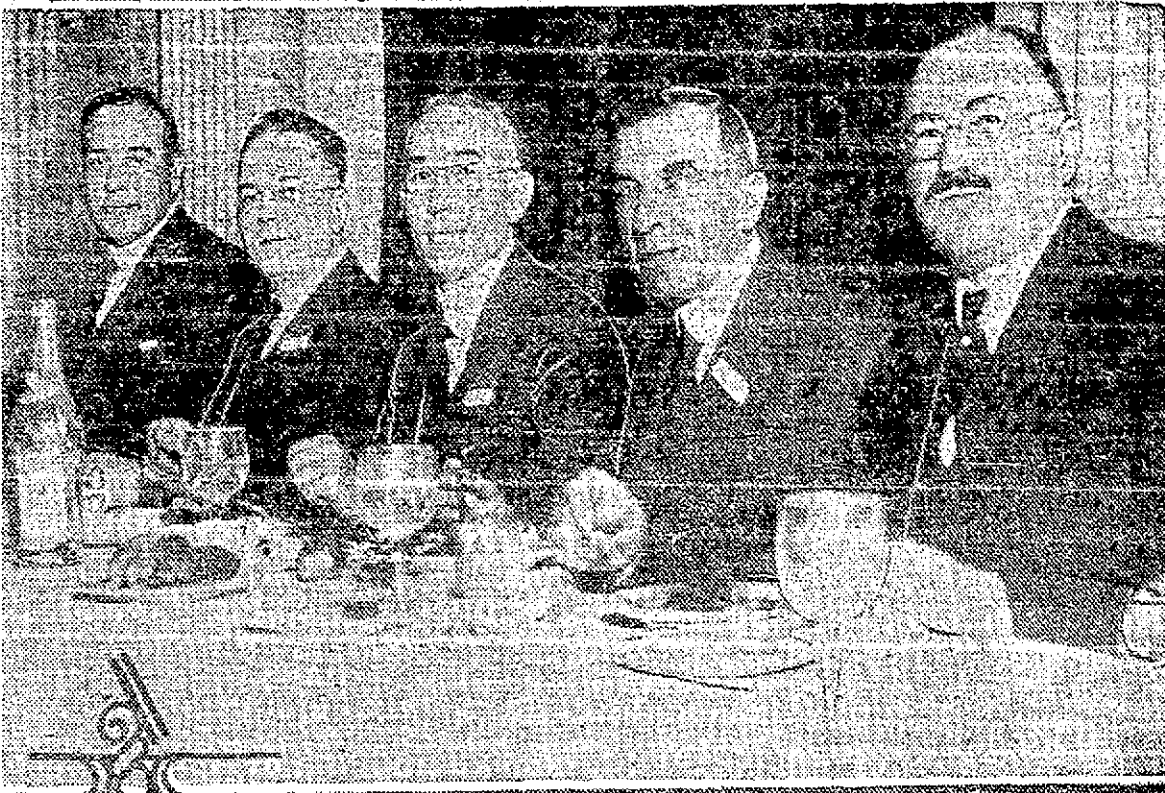

He instanced how, in 1921, 151 conventions came to Omaha, how thousands of visitors flock to the city annually to attend the Ak-Sar-Ben festival, comprising an exposition of the city and state products, electric pageants, industrial parades, a great coronation ball at which the king and queen of the festival are crowned, and many other features.

WONDERS POSSIBLE HERE. Turning to local conditions, Gardner said:

"An organization like that of which I have the honor to be secretary, could start out in Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda with a membership of 4000 solid citizens and accomplish wonders. You, in

Gathering Boosts Great Oakland Festival

Oakland, are extremely fortunate in possessing a great natural setting for such a festival, and you could give part of your pageant on the water, and on the banks of that magnificent sheet of water, Lake Merritt. We in Omaha, and other cities also, had to build our own setting, but bountiful nature has supplied Oakland with the greatest scenic background in the world."

Following Gardner's address a large number of those present signed application blanks for membership in Oakland's proposed "Festival and Booster Organization." On these cards the following reasons for joining the organization were enumerated:

1. It would attract and entertain visitors and tourists.
2. It would attract conventions.
3. It would be a publicity medium for the Eastbay section, international in scope.
4. The Fall Festival would give this community an unusual opportunity to display its hospitality and natural resources.

5. Above all, the democratic type of organization proposed would promote and foster a spirit of co-operation and good fellowship among the men of Oakland and vicinity that would unify all interests.

6. It would give the Eastbay cities an operative organization that would be available at all times for the promotion of entertainment and festivities.

San Quentin Convicts Fire Jute Mill Looms

Six convicts are in solitary confinement in the San Quentin penitentiary today, following their attempt late yesterday to effect a general prison break, by setting fire to the jute mill, where 890 other prisoners were preparing to quit work.

Twenty-one looms, used in the mill to weave jute into bags, burst simultaneously into flames as the convicts applied the torches. The mill was filled with smoke and fire and the convicts thrown into a panic. The blaze was finally extinguished after a general alarm had been turned in and the men responsible for the fire captured.

Warden James A. Johnston was today making a thorough investigation of the attempted prison break, and said that he had fixed the responsibility. He was preparing a report, which he said he would forward to Governor Richardson at Sacramento.

All of the prisoners were at their work in the mill, just before closing time, when suddenly the six convicts applied torches to the looms. The fire spread rapidly and the prisoners, panic-stricken, ran about the mill shouting.

The blaze was first discovered by Superintendent Ernest Zabler, who quickly marshaled all available guards, and with the aid of convicts a determined fight was made to prevent the destruction of the mill. The emergency electric salt-water pump was set in operation and tons of water pumped from San Francisco bay into the burning plant.

Finally the fire fighters succeeded in getting the flames under control, but not until considerable damage was done to the mill and the machinery, where much of the jute supply was destroyed.

Following an investigation six men were named by Warden Johnston as ringleaders in the plot, and ordered them sent to the dungeon. These convicts are: Ernest Damme, Los Angeles, serving five years for grand larceny; George Smith, Sacramento, serving ten years for robbery; Philip Murray, Riverside, serving four years for grand larceny; Charles Franklin,

LAWS FAVOR OLD MAID, IS CONTENTION

California laws encourage women to remain in the old-maid class, according to Mrs. Frances Wilson Kidd, former deputy district attorney in Alameda county, and chairman of legislation, Alameda district, C. F. W. C. Mrs. Kidd was the speaker yesterday before the Twentieth Century Club in Berkeley.

"As soon as California women begin the serious study of laws there will be a crop of spinsters in this state," Mrs. Kidd declared. "Remain single, a woman enjoys all the civil, legal and political rights that men do. Marry, and a woman gives up the right of contract, of owning and disposing of property. To obtain a share in community property a wife must divorce or outlive the husband."

"No reason exists for a woman to be a feminist in this state," Mrs. Kidd said. "She may hold public office, enter the professions and enjoy all the rights that men enjoy. There are many reasons for her to remain an old maid. Discriminations are against the married woman. She is classed with children and lunatics."

The speaker designated the inequality in the age of majority as practically the only discrimination in California laws based on sex. She reviewed the bill before the state legislature whose purpose is to make 21 years the age of majority for women as well as men.

CALIFORNIA QUINTET EASILY EVENS UP SERIES WITH U. S. C. BY SCORING 35 TO 15 VICTORY

Bruins Make Up for Loss Of First Game

U. S. C. Humbled by Score of 35-15 in Final Appearance at Berkeley.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 7.—The University of California basketball team made a strong comeback last night in the second game of the series against the University of Southern California on the court of Harmon gym in Berkeley, handing the southern basketball team a 35 to 15 licking that more than made up for the upset in the first game.

CALIFORNIA RIGHT. California was right last night. Primarily David O'Neill, the California center, was right. O'Neill went the honor of scoring seven field goals, more than the entire U. S. C. team and all their substitutes could ring. Five of these came in the second period to give the Bears even a wider edge, although they were leading by an overwhelming majority of 18 to 6 at half-time.

Johnny Talt, accustomed to the guarding tactics of Norman Anderson, the clever U. S. C. guard, changed his play accordingly and looped four field goals on his own hook.

Hap Houvenin started at forward as running mate for Johnny Talt and distinguished himself with three field goals in the first half and another in the final period.

Bone, one of the U. S. C. scoring aces, was held without a field goal, as was captain Kenny White, U. S. C. captain.

The game was a far slower contest to witness than the first game of the series.

CHANCES FAIR. California's chances of winning the southern basketball conference are still fair, although not the brightest. It remains for the Bears to win four straight from Stanford, for the Cards, encouraged by their showing against U. S. C. at Palo Alto last week, bid fair to take two more from the Trojans at Los Angeles over the coming week-end.

In the preliminary game last night the Fresno State Teachers defeated the University of California 34-5 pound team by a score of 49 to 23. The Fresno team was leading 15 to 11 at half-time.

The California-U. S. C. line-ups: U. S. C. (15) Pos. CALIF. (35) White, (8) Talt, (3) Campbell, (8) Houvenin, (8) Hawkins, (8) O'Neill, (14) Bone, (3) Thompson, (2) Anderson, (2) Lelane.

Substitutes: U. S. C. Wayne for Hawkins; Hawkins for White; White for Wayne; Prylian (2) for Hawkins.

California: Douthitt for O'Neill; Delano for Thompson; Kincaid for Lelane.

Field Goals: California (16): O'Neill, 7; Talt, 4; Houvenin, 2; Thompson, 1; U. S. C. (5): Campbell, 1; Prylian, 1.

Free Throws: California (3 of 5): Talt, 2 of 5; U. S. C. (5 of 10): Bone, 5 of 10; White, 0 of 1.

Fouls called: On U. S. C. (4): Campbell, 2; White, 1; Hawkins, 1; On California (17): Delano, 2; Talt, 1; Prylian, 1; O'Neill, 1; Houvenin, 1; Referee: Harris, Umpire, Evans.

S. J. S. Stickers Beat Bakery Boys

The St. Joseph's Sodality recently defeated the Risdon Bakers at Fruitvale Sunday by a score of 7 to 5 in one of the best games of the season.

The pitching of "Irish" Mulcahy proved too much for the hard hitting Risdon, for although Adams gathered a triple and a double and his teammate, Perry, slammed out a home run, the remainder of the hitters were helpless.

The fielding of Peck and Gomez for the winners featured the game.

Billy Baccus Promises to Remove Gates

Floating Boom to Replace the Present Obstruction at Eighth Street.

By Bob Shaud. After being kept out of Lake Merritt for fifteen years the striped bass are going to be invited to take up their residence in the lake again this summer which means wonderful fishing for the anglers who now have to travel miles to hook a striper.

Prior to 1908 there was excellent bass fishing in the lake but in that year gates were placed at the Eighth street bridge which kept the big fish out. The bars are built there and a quarter inches apart while some of the bass that come in from the bay are three feet long.

Bass fishermen for years have tried to have the iron gates removed or altered but no action was ever taken. Yesterday a committee consisting of Bill Jurgens, "Doc" W. H. Simmons, Weare C. Little and the writer waited on Commissioner Billy Baccus and at the end of the interview the commissioner ordered City Engineer W. H. Harmon to replace the gates with a floating boom.

This will permit fish of all sizes to enter the lake and will keep out the refuse that floats on the surface. Harmon has promised immediate action and the change may be made within the next few days.

WILL KEEP OUT OIL. Weare Little demonstrated with a working model how the floating boom will operate and the contrivance seems wonderfully simple. At present oil seeps into the lake in considerable quantities but with a floating boom the progress of both oil and refuse will be checked at Eighth street and will be carried out again on the receding tide.

It is planned to have the boom submerged about two feet, with one foot above the water. This will catch everything on the surface but will permit the biggest fish to swim underneath. Beyond Eighth street there is nothing to check the progress of the bass and it is believed that once the striper enter the lake they will remain there instead of going out on the tide. There is wonderful feeding for the fish especially when the smelt are running. The bass follow the smelt clear from the bay up the estuary and they will hereafter follow them right into Lake Merritt.

BIG AD FOR OAKLAND. Commissioners Baccus realized the great advertisement it will be for Oakland to have twenty round bass caught almost in the heart of the city. In addition the revenue from the hire of boats owned by the city will be considerable. Bass fishing is one of the most popular sports and there will be demand for boats every month in the year. At present the boats are engaged only in the summer time most of them remaining idle during the winter.

Objection to fishing in the lake was made years ago by the park commissioners who thought the anglers would clutter up the banks with lunch remnants, but it is possible that this difficulty can be overcome by prohibiting fishing from the banks.

BASS ARE DUE SOON. Striped bass are due in the estuary very soon now as they are starting on their winter run and if the inlet to the lake is cleared in time fish dinners will soon be popular in Oakland homes.

Louis Geisler, veteran local angler who keeps a record of all the fish he catches, declared today that it was an uncommon thing 14 years ago to catch twenty-pounders in the lake. The biggest he ever caught there was one that weighed 22 pounds and he has a picture of the fish to prove it.

Style, Rather Than Men, Has Broken Marks

Swimmers Owe Great Speed to Stroke. Is View Taken by Experts.

By DAVIS J. WALSH. International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Improvement in strokes, not men, accounts for the fact that Johnny Weissmuller, Duke Kahanamoku, Norman Ross and present day swimmers in general are traveling yards faster than the experts of 10 and 20 years ago, according to Joe Ruddy, perhaps the greatest of all water polo players.

Weissmuller wiped out some twenty or thirty records during the 1922 campaign and is hailed as the super-being of the tanks and open-water strokes. Charlie Daniels was born ten years to soon. Given the conditions that now favor Weissmuller, it is Ruddy's belief that Daniels would break record for records with the Illinois A. C. marvel.

"DANIELS WAS CREATING WORLD'S RECORDS WITH A STROKE FAR INFERIOR TO THE SIX-BEAT DOUBLE-TRUDGON THAT WEISSMULLER USES TODAY," quoth Joseph, who has seen them all come and go since the pioneer days of the Cavill brothers right on down to the present generation.

"Another thing," he continued, "you can judge for yourself by the fact that Weissmuller often beats his field by mere fifths of seconds, whereas Daniels disposes of Beau-repairs, of Australia, then the world's record holder, by seven yards in 100 meters."

By comparison, Ruddy intimates, Daniels' supremacy over the old school was so much greater as to indicate that strokes and not men make modern records possible.

"In what other branch of sport has the record been reduced from 1.10 to the hundred to 52.4-5 seconds?" Ruddy inquires plausibly enough. "The sprinters on the cinder path were just as good twenty years ago as they are now."

ARE SPECIALISTS NOW. The oratorical Ruddy has a further point to make, to wit: That present-day swimmers are specialists in water sports alone, while those of twenty years ago were all-around athletes. Daniels, he declared, ran a cracking quarter and a half mile for Dwight school. Today a champion swimmer would not think of running, for it develops certain muscles in a way that is detrimental to swimming.

"Weissmuller, Ross and the Duke never did anything but swim," he declared. "They gave their muscles a chance to develop for swimming only. That is why women swimmers have been making such rapid strides. The coaches get them before their muscles have been used for any other strenuous sport."

In this, he asserted, American coaches are showing for greater enterprise that those of any other country, and as a result the United States stands supreme among all nations in swimming.

"We wrestled the supremacy from Australia with the advent of such great swimmers as Daniels, Goodwin, Volmer, McGilivray, Hobner and Ross," he stated.

BETTER STROKE. "We took their Australian crawl stroke and improved it until today we lead in the world, with a six-beat double and single trudgeon crawl, our own creation. There is no country in the world that threatens to wrest the supremacy from us. Our Women swimmers stand out as prominently as our men do internationally."

"For a while the swimmers led by Duke Kahanamoku, from the Hawaiian Islands, looked as if they might be dangerous rivals of ours. But," went on Ruddy, "they play too much in the water. Surf riding, aquaplaning, et cetera, take them away from training. They delight in playing under the warm tropical sun. The Duke, the Kahanamoku brothers, Harris and Cunha were no lot of swimmers as the world has ever seen, but their love of playing their spare moments away robbed them of being still greater against the pick of the foremost competitive swimmers of the world."

Nebraska, U. C. Track Meet Not Yet Arranged

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 7.—Coach Schulte of the Nebraska track team referring to the proposed track meet on April 7 at Berkeley, between the University of California and Nebraska University said the announcement by Athletic Manager Cortelyou of the University of California was premature, inasmuch as the arrangements were only tentative. The proposed trip of the Nebraska team is contingent on their ability to arrange enroute to the coast, with teams at Albuquerque, N. M., and Tucson, Ariz. If dates with these teams are fixed, the California trip is a certainty, he said. No selections of men to be taken have been made, Coach Schulte said.

RUBBER OCCUPATIONS SLATED TO BOOST CHEMICAL PRICES

N. Y. Importers Expect to See Sharp Advance in Import Staff

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The French occupation of the Ruhr will in all probability reflect directly on price for imported chemicals as quoted in the New York market last week.

In the New York market in the near future according to the views of several leading importers, according to Drug and Chemical Markets. Already in anticipation of the scarcity of chemicals in Germany which will likely result from curtailing the coal output there, shippers prices named to the United States.

are higher. Actual buying is not as intensive enough at the present time to bring about an immediate reaction in spot prices, but ultimately high figures are looked for. American producers as a group are well sold up, mostly on contract and for a number of spot items, buyers have been turing to imported offerings.

Prices for chemicals and drugs a whole are firm and well sustained. The actual revisions of prices either by manufacturers or importers during the past week have been few and of minor importance. Prussiates are higher. White arsenic has reacted very slightly from the strongly held position of ten days ago, and is a trifle easier. A price fight between American makers of oxalic acid and importers of the same product, has brought on lower prices here, prices which are below cost of manufacturer. Camphor is weak and lower. Cream tartar is easier. Cod Liver oil has declined slightly. Potash permanagnate has advanced. Gum arabic is dearer. Powdered rhubarb is lower. Oil citronella is higher. Oil cloves has declined on the open market.

Smelter People Not Indifferent

To Silver Price

Fear Expressed That Formation of Selling Body May Foul Sherman Act.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The American Smelting & Refining Company has made public abstracts of a letter written to Senator Pittman by Francis B. Brownell, vice president of the company, in which he has refused to aid in the formation of a silver selling and credit organization.

"No subject has been more carefully investigated by smelting companies than the organization of such a combination," Brownell says. "All investigations have come up against the insurmountable difficulty that such an association is neither legal nor capable of being financed. Under present conditions, if it could be financed, it is not legal, and if it is not legal it cannot be financed.

"The legal difficulty is the Sherman law and supplementary legislation, prohibiting combinations for the purpose of raising the price of any commodity. Entirely aside from the legal difficulty, financial considerations prevent such an association in the case of silver.

"As a large number of silver-bearing ores, the American Smelting & Refining Company as well as every other smelting company without exception, so far as the world is concerned, is interested in the price of silver, as it is possible for any miner to be, and thus entirely aside from the smelting business and its purchase of silver-bearing ore in connection therewith.

The higher the price of silver the larger is the tonnage produced by the mines, and hence the greater the profits from treatment charges that accrue to the smelters. There is another most important reason why smelting companies are directly interested in the price of silver. Every one of them is itself a minor of silver directly or indirectly.

EASTERN MARKETS

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Something of an upturn in the value of wheat took place today during the early dealings, the impetus coming from renewal of warlike moves by the Turks. Falling off in receipts Northwest gave an additional motive to buyers, and resulted in a moderate amount of purchasing on the part of commission houses and shorts. A decline in Liverpool quotations was practically ignored, in view of Turkish developments. The opening, which varied from  $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ off to  $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ up, with May  $\$1.18\frac{1}{2}$  to  $\$1.18\frac{3}{4}$ , and July  $\$1.13$  to  $\$1.13\frac{1}{2}$ , was followed by a rise all around to well above yesterday's finish.

YOUR HOME WORKS FOR YOU

(By the Oakland Real Estate Board)

Home ownership gives you a business credit that the renter does not enjoy. Not only does the securing of a home put your own dormant faculties at work but, once secured, it creates a new set of conditions in your life that start many outside forces and influences working for you as well.

It thrusts you into the very midst of life where before you were only floating on the surface.

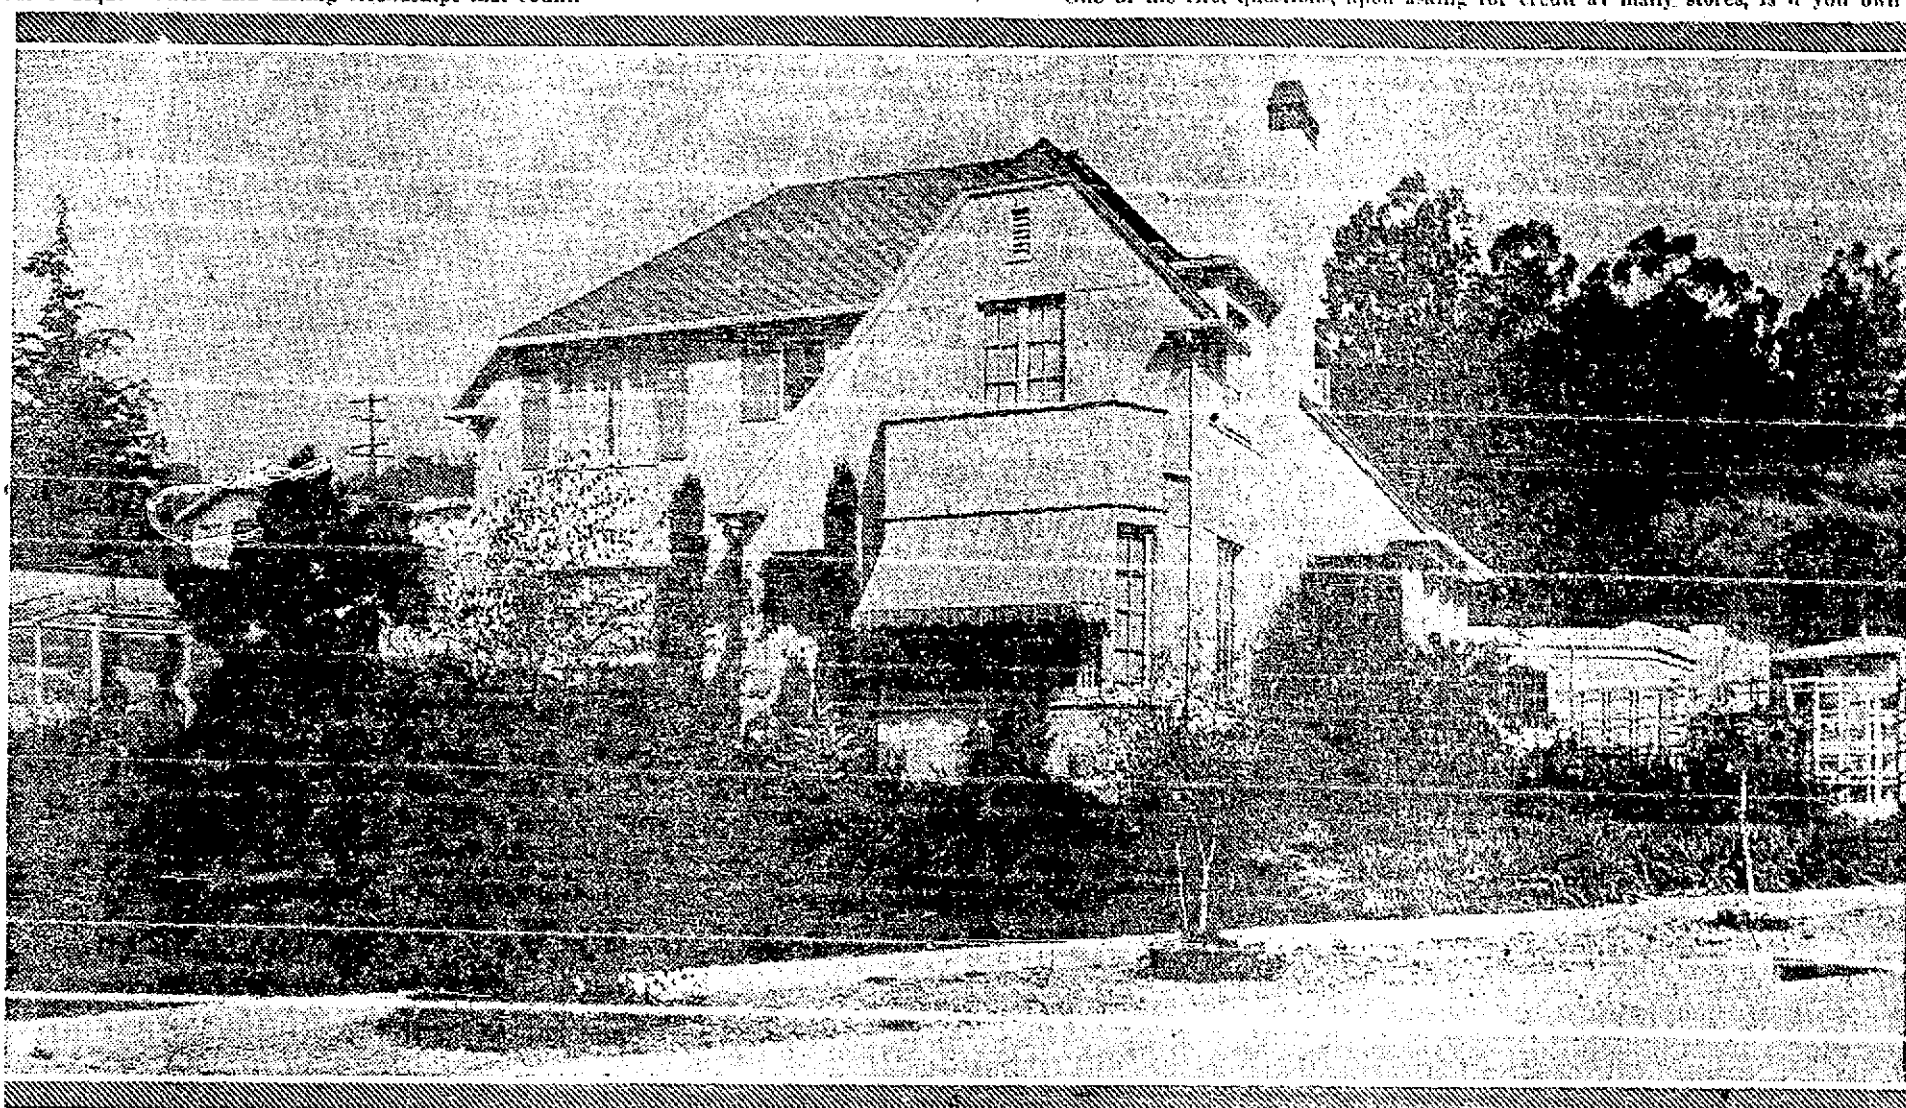

A different estimate is made of you by your community. You are now a responsible property owner, and are eligible for business and other advantages that are rarely extended to the renter and which he often is not in the community long enough to even know about.

You establish valuable acquaintances and lasting friendships that count.

It puts you in the current of things. Opportunities that were out of your reach now come to you of their own accord.

It becomes a headquarters where opportunity can always find you. If you have special talents or "side lines" that you want to realize profit on, continued residence makes them known so that business comes to you. The permanent home constantly invites accumulation, as well as all manner of value-increasing improvements in your spare time. Many hours are devoted to interesting profit-making effort that you would otherwise devote to the spending of money in less interesting amusement seeking.

One of the first questions, upon asking for credit at many stores, is if you own your home.

U. C. PLEDGES AID FOR EDUCATION IN AGRICULTURE

Sacramento Valley Contingent Assured Davis to Be Main Junior College.

BERKELEY, Feb. 7.—That the University of California intends to do everything in its power to extend agricultural education in the state was the message given yesterday to members of the Davis farm committee of the United Chambers of Commerce of the Sacramento Valley which visited Berkeley as the guests of the Chamber of Commerce of the college city.

The Sacramento valley contingent conferred with representatives of the state commission on agricultural development.

Prof. Elwood Mead of the commission and Neil Munro and Prof. Mathew Lynch attended the meeting and received the committee consisting of Colonel E. P. O'Hern, chairman; V. W. Cooley of Yuba City and M. J. Dillman of Lincoln.

A. Plant of Davis accompanied the committee and participated in the discussion. After the conference in which Professor Mead outlined the university plan for making the Davis Farm School the main junior agricultural college of the university, in which the first two years of farm training would be given as preparatory to the final years of instruction in the Berkeley College of Agriculture, the committee went to the university and continued the discussion with President David P. Barrows and Comptroller Robert G. Sprout.

As a result of the meeting, the committee gained much information on the future plans of the university in its relation both to Davis and to Berkeley. They were advised of the intention of the regents of the university not only to maintain the Davis school but greatly to strengthen and improve it under the report of the state commission on the agricultural college. The commission left the conference with the better understanding of the needs of certain agricultural land for experimental purposes in Berkeley, and with the realization that the fulfillment of this need will be in entire harmony with the fullest development of Davis as a junior agricultural college, according to those in attendance.

State Aid in Financing Land Development Urged

BERKELEY, Feb. 7.—A new plan for state aid in financing land development was heard at this morning's session of the land settlement conference held in Stiles hall under the auspices of the department of agriculture of the University of California.

Prof. R. L. Adams of the State university led the discussion, in which officials of the Berkeley Farm Loan Bank, including President W. H. Joyce and Secretary W. D. Ellis participated.

Following yesterday's discussion on the selection and preparation of land for settlement led by Charles F. Shaw of the United States Bureau of Soils, it was agreed by the experts in attendance on the conference that the only legitimate and sensible way to place a valuation on farm acreages was on the basis of a detailed soil survey.

The practice of blindly setting a price on farms and ranches was condemned as the reason for so many of the failures of incipient agriculture. In describing the work at the Durham colony, Professor Shaw declared that some of the land sold to the settlers at prices differing in amounts of over $100 an acre for adjoining lands. This was due to the character of the soil, determined by borings in the earth to a depth of six feet at intervals of a half-mile apart.

ALL THINK THERE FARMERS. "It is a well-known fact," said Shaw, "that everybody considers himself a soil expert. Because a business man, banker or salesman knows the difference between clay and loam he considers himself a competent judge of soil and will buy a farm on his own knowledge, and later wonder why he fails. However very few men there are who do not think that if they fail at everything else they can at least make a success of farming."

"At some of our colonies the prices range from $25 to $300 per acre. This is almost entirely determined by the character of the soil, although location, accessibility and home sites are considered as minor factors. And all our colonists are satisfied. Each one knows he got just as good a bargain as his neighbor."

"It is surprising the number of people who will buy land blindly. Then after acquiring it they will write to the university and ask what they can grow on it."

Shaw declared that the bureau is in receipt of letters from eastern people inquiring about California lands by the hundreds.

LIVE HERE, IS ADVICE. "We get many letters asking what kind of soil is in this State without any indication of the locality wanted," Shaw said. "Many people think that all you have to do to raise crops here is to plant them. Sometimes after corresponding for months with a prospective settler about character of soil and best locations for farms, the settler will suddenly appear in our office and announce that he has bought a ranch. We advise him to wait until he has been stung with alkali lands, or some other undesirable soil. Many settlers 'fall for' the real estate man's declaration that if he can't buy today it will be gone tomorrow. I would not advise anybody to buy land until he has lived in California at least six months."

The use of soil survey maps was explained by M. H. Lapham of the bureau of soils. These maps are published on a scale of one mile to the inch and show accurately the character of the soils. Many months are consumed in compiling one of these district maps. At the present time practically all the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys, Southern California, the Imperial Valley, portions of Ventura county, Santa Maria valley lower Salinas valley, San Francisco Bay region, Russian River valley, Little Valley, Honey Lake valley, Big Valley, Shasta valley and the Victorville area in the Mojave desert have been surveyed, approximately $4,000,000 apiece.

"Prospective purchasers of farm lands are coming more and more to use these maps and surveys," Lapham declared. "They are the only basis for farm valuation, and the buyer knows just what he is getting and just what he can raise and the obstacles he will be up against. Fewer failures will result if these methods are employed before purchasing the farm out of which the settler expects to make his living."

FOREMAN & CLARK Guaranteed CLOTHES

New stocks—old prices—direct from our 4 <sup>New</sup> York factories!

First fact: Every year at this time, the clothing industry is winding up its annual housecleaning of rejected merchandise at so-called mark-down prices. Foreman & Clark turn over their stocks every six weeks, and never have rejected merchandise to mark up or mark down. We have never juggled a price—we have never held a clearance sale—we guarantee a saving of at least $10 on NEW stocks over any clearance prices on OLD stocks, anywhere in the city.

Second fact: Hand in hand with "Clearance Sale" and "discount offers," the clothing industry is moving slowly toward new stocks for Spring, bought thru the middleman, marked up to start the season, to cover mark-downs later. Foreman & Clark offer complete new stocks, ready now!—weeks ahead of the clothing industry—but minus the mark-ups. We receive new styles direct from our New York factories every week, instead of through the middleman every six months.

Third fact: The textile market has gone up! Woolens have increased in price! (Ask any statistical bureau). This means another increase in retail prices, over and above the ordinary mark-ups of the early season! Right there comes the biggest opportunity in our history! Read and remember! Foreman & Clark have not increased their prices, regardless of higher woolen prices, higher wholesale prices, and higher retail prices throughout the clothing industry! We are not only protecting you against early season "mark-ups" and late season "clean-ups"—we are also absorbing in our own production costs this sweeping rise in woolens without a change in price or a sacrifice of standard!

6-week advance in style--NO advance in price!

Six months after you buy your Foreman & Clark suit—you will know what this inside construction means!

1. Pliable Belgian canvas coat body, instead of stiff cotton canvas.
2. Genuine silver Hymo, instead of loosely woven hair-cloth.
3. 1/8-inch lock-stitched lapel; three fine rows of parallel threads, instead of one or two.
4. Duo-stitched, triple-braced pocket-flap, double strength against sagging and tearing.
5. Inverted V-curve coat skeleton supporting lower area of skirt, as human muscles support the body.
